Tornado Toll 324 ... Thousands Hurt

By The Associated Press

Rescue workers counted the dead on Thursday and tried to help the living rebuild after the nation's worst tornado disaster in 49 years left more than 320 dead and thousands injured or homeless. Five states were declared federal disaster areas; damage reached into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

The death toll in 11 states and Canada stood at 324.

"The destruction, the devastation is unbelievable," said Vice President Gerald R. Ford after flying over damaged areas of Ohio. "You can see where the houses were reduced to matches."

Hospitals overflowed. In Dayton, Ohio, near hard-hit Xenia, ambulances arrived at Miami Valley Hospital at the rate of one a minute in the hours just after the tornado. Minor cases were treated in the hospital cafeteria. "We're unable to do anything out in Xenia," said radiologist Shirley Kitchberg, returning to Dayton. "There's only one portable X-ray. The rest of the power's out."

The tornadoes and related storms that struck late Wednesday and early Thursday hit 13 Southern and Midwestern states and Ontario, Canada. Whole communities were turned into piles of rubble; more than 30 buildings at the Army's Redstone Arsenal near Huntsville, Ala., were destroyed or damaged; a pastor died as he led prayers.

Whole communities in several states were without power from the estimated 100 tornadoes which touched down Wednesday afternoon and night. Two twisters hit a West Virginia community Thursday.

Kentucky appeared to have suffered the most, with deaths reported in 13 counties.

There were at least 29 deaths in Meade County, Ky., and the tiny county seat of Brandenburg, an Ohio River town near Fort Knox, was dominated by twisted, grotesque wreckage. Survivors mourned lost relatives and friends and faced shattered lives. "This street will never be the same," said Frank Thurman, 71, of Louisville, as he stared at a tree fallen across his two-story home. "The trees made the street and now the trees are gone."

Over 150 homes and 100 businesses were destroyed in Monticello, Ind. Damage was estimated at $100 million. Two banks were destroyed and the president of one of them stood guard at his vault through the night.

Insurance adjusters estimated damage in Ohio at over $100 million, including $75 million in Xenia. They said West Virginia suffered $1 million in damage and Michigan $3 million.

High winds and flooding continued in the tornadoes' aftermath. A Virginia teen-ager was killed Thursday when his mobile home was picked up by the wind, hurled 100 yards and dropped on its top.

Acting in response to pleas from state officials, President Nixon declared Alabama, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee disaster areas, making them eligible for massive federal aid. Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren said more disaster declarations were expected.

Kentucky reported 71 dead from the storm, Alabama, 72, Tennessee, 58, Indiana, 52, Ohio, 35, Georgia, 16, Ontario, Canada, 8, North Carolina, 5, Michigan 3, Illinois, 2, Virginia 1, and West Virginia, 1.

It was virtually impossible to come up with an accurate tally of the damage which was high in the millions. Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., proposed that the federal disaster fund be boosted by $100 million. He said all but $63 million of the $400 million appropriated this year has been committed.

Survivors of the storms' wrath mourned lost friends and tried to figure out what happened. "I don't believe it," said Don Hilton of Xenia, a town of 25,000 in southwestern Ohio.

By evening, 27 were confirmed dead and officials said there could be more bodies in the debris. A curfew was imposed to prevent looting.

The list of injured grew. "We have 350 at this point and another 300 and some odd have been treated elsewhere," said a spokesman at one hospital. "That's 650 and they're still coming in."

The series of storms was the worst since March 18, 1925, when tornadoes cut through Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, killing 689 persons. In recent years, a tornado in the Midwest on April 11, 1965 — Palm Sunday — left 271 dead.

AARON TIES THE BABE

Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves pounded out career home run No. 714 Thursday to equal the record of the legendary Babe Ruth. Aaron's blast came in the first inning of the Braves season opener against the Cincinnati Reds in Cincinnati. (See story on Page 23.)

Security Guides Being Prepared

... For Wounded Knee Cases

By GORDON WINTERS
Star Staff Writer

Security guidelines, including possible searches, have been proposed for U.S. District Court as officials prepare for moving of Wounded Knee cases to Lincoln.

Judge Warren K. Urborn said the measures are "very typical in cases that are, or that can be, sensitive."

The proposed court order, a draft of which is now being circulated to parties involved, would allow persons to enter the courtroom building only if they submitted to a search when one was requested by a security officer.

Identifiable residents of the building and attorneys admitted to practice before the court would not be subjected to a search unless a security officer had "probable cause" to believe they were carrying a weapon, a destructive device, a component of a destructive device or physical evidence, instrumentality or fruit of illegal activity.

In addition, all persons except attorneys of record in proceedings being conducted in the building, may be subjected to a search before they are permitted to enter or re-enter the courtroom itself.

Urborn said the procedures have been "standard procedure" in the U.S. District Court in Omaha for some time.

Noting that the proposed guidelines will not be implemented "unless needed, Urborn said the anticipates that they will remain in effect "perpetually" for U.S. District Courts in Nebraska.

Urborn said similar guidelines have been in effect in Sioux Falls, S.D. during Wounded Knee trials and during trials of Wounded Knee leaders in St. Paul, Minn.

Tentative plans for the U.S. District Courtroom in Lincoln call for U.S. marshals to be stationed at the east door to the federal building. All other doors in the building permitting access to the courtroom would be locked.

Urborn said plans still call for the "Wounded Knee matters" to be moved to Lincoln around May 1.

He said however, that he will start another trial in Sioux Falls on April 15 and has no way of knowing how long that trial will last.

He said that in order for the cases to be moved to Lincoln the plan had to have the agreement of the defendants, their counsel and the court.

"Obviously, at any time the whole plan may fall through," Urborn said.

The one-judge theory is that time and expense will be saved if the judge can use evidence presented in one case and apply it to other cases without actually hearing the evidence again in each case.

The theory would work only in cases in which the defendants waive jury trial.

In cases in which defendants do not waive jury trial, Urborn said, jurors would be drawn from the southeast quarter of the state, following normal practice.

Chrysler Asks Emission Rules' Extension To '77

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has joined General Motors and Ford in urging Congress to extend 1975 auto emission standards until 1977.

In a statement submitted Thursday to the House Commerce Committee in Washington, Chrysler said it is unable to meet 1976 anti-pollution standards in time for next year's model run.

The nation's No. 3 automaker said a two-year extension of 1975 standards also would give the industry time to improve fuel economy.

White House Is Given Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee, declaring it has been patient long enough, has set a deadline of next Tuesday for the White House to reply to its request for tapes of 42 presidential conversations.

"We will subpoena them if we must," said chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., speaking for an apparently united committee Thursday in the dispute over evidence the committee wants for its impeachment inquiry.

Rodino's sternly worded message, delivered at the outset of a committee meeting on the investigation, was fully endorsed by Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the ranking Republican on the committee, and other GOP members.

"We're not after irrelevant material," said Hutchinson. "We're not after state secrets. We are merely after information to help bring this matter to a conclusion."

The committee has been waiting since Feb. 25 for a reply to its request for the recorded conversations between President Nixon and his top aides last spring when the Watergate cover-up was being exposed.

"We have been respectively patient," said Rodino. "The House has been patient. The people have been patient for a long, long time. The patience of this committee is now wearing thin."

John Doar, chief counsel for the committee, read to newsmen a letter he sent to James St. Clair, Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, renewing a request for the tapes.

"We request a reply by Tuesday, April 9, at the latest as to whether the tapes will be provided," concluded the letter.

Deputy White House press secretary Gerald L. Warren was asked if the White House would respond to Rodino before the Tuesday deadline. He said continuing conversations between St. Clair and the staff of the Judiciary Committee are confidential.

Rodino declined to say that a subpoena would be issued if the deadline passed without a response, but he said the committee would undoubtedly meet and decide on a course of action.

In outlining the procedures, Doar appeared to make a concession to White House concerns that the tapes might contain material irrelevant to the committee's inquiry.

Doar said St. Clair would be permitted to screen out any material he regarded as irrelevant before turning the tapes over to the committee. But the committee would retain the right to demand any conversations withheld, he said.

The suggested procedure apparently confused some members, who said Doar seemed to be giving St. Clair a chance to screen out anything he wants.

"How would you know he is telling the truth?" asked Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y.

"You have to take, in initial instances, a person's word," said Doar. "The person who has the material can make the first judgment as to what is relevant. There is no way around it."

Doar emphasized that in the final analysis the committee itself would make a determination to the relevancy of the material it wanted.

The bipartisanship of the committee on the request for White House evidence dissolved later in the meeting over a request by St. Clair to be permitted to take part in the investigation, to the extent of cross-examining witnesses and presenting his own evidence.

State's Allocation Less Than Hoped

Nebraska's April gasoline allocation was placed at 70.5 million gallons Thursday, but State Tax Commissioner William Peters said he hoped the state would get more.

Nebraska's energy chief said the state's March allocation was initially 57.8 million gallons, but was later increased by another four million gallons.

Peters said a directive by federal energy chief William Simon indicated Nebraska was to receive a 32% increase in mid-March, which would have been about 18 million gallons.

"But the companies only responded with four million," Peters said.

Peters said he wanted to have last month's increase tacked on to the April allocation, but wasn't sure if the 70.5 million gallons already represents the increase.

Peters said he planned to be in Chicago Friday "and the addition is one of the things I'm going to push for." He said he planned to meet with state and federal officials in Chicago concerning amendments in the allocation system.

Meanwhile, the Cornhusker Motor Club's weekly fuel gauge report showed Thursday that, after two consecutive weeks of slightly declining prices, the cost of gasoline was again soaring upwards.

The motor club found, in its survey of 60 service stations along major highways in the state, that pump prices were up as much as eight cents per gallon at some locations.

On the average, gallon prices for regular gasoline were up 1.3 cents to 54.3, while premium was up one cent to 58.

Top prices were 64.2 cents for premium and 60.2 cents for regular. The motor club said this week was the first time the price had jumped over the 60 cent mark.

The motor club said one of every three stations surveyed indicated it would be open on Sunday, 27% have increased prices within the last week, and 7% posted a decline in prices.

Road Conditions Improve In State

Travel conditions improved Thursday in Nebraska, although some one-way traffic areas remained in effect as the result of Wednesday's snowstorm.

Some one-way travel on U.S. 6 between Hastings and Minden was still necessary late Thursday, the State Department of Roads said.

In the Tilden-Lindsay areas, one-way traffic on Nebraska 91 east of Lindsay and along U.S. 275 east of Tilden was moving late Thursday.

The storm that blew in from the southwest left up to more than 10 inches of snow in northwestern Scotts Bluff County, five inches at Randolph, four inches at Aurora three inches at Meadow Grove, and two inches throughout most of central and northeastern Nebraska. Drizzle, rain or sleet were the general conditions in the southeast.

Windy weather continued Thursday, with gusts registered up to 40 miles per hour at the Lincoln Airport.

Precipitation received from the storm included Randolph 1.12 inches; Emerson .91, Pender .65, Howells .83, Beemer .75, Winslow .62, Uehling .51, McCook .55, Grand Island .49, and Omaha .44.

Warmer temperatures are predicted for Nebraska Friday with highs around 60 degrees. And Saturday's forecast calls for spring to return with the mercury rising to near 70.

Stock Firms Lose

New York (AP) — New York Stock Exchange member firms had a composite $5 million loss in February compared to a $40.2 million loss in February 1973 and a $48.5 million profit in January 1974, the exchange said.

FBI Considers Heiress Kidnap Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The FBI said Thursday it still considers Patricia Hearst to be a kidnap victim and is making an "all-out intensive effort" to arrest her abductors.

In a tape-recorded message received Wednesday, a voice identified as Miss Hearst's said she had joined her terrorist captors.

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said in Washington: "The FBI will use all available resources and take all necessary actions to carry out responsibility to pursue this case to a successful conclusion."

"The investigation instituted by the FBI following the Feb. 4, 1974, abduction of Patricia Hearst is continuing. The welfare and safety of Miss Hearst will remain primary concerns of all FBI personnel as they have been from the outset."

And Charles Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case said in San Francisco: "She hasn't been released. She hasn't come out. As far as we're concerned, we still have a kidnapping case."

He said the FBI has been making "an all-out effort and intensive investigation" since Miss Hearst was taken from her Berkeley apartment. "And our all-out intensive effort is continuing."

Patricia's mother, Catherine Hearst, reiterated the family's disbelief in her statement that she has become a revolutionary and taken the name of Tania, a follower of guerrilla leader Che Guevara.

"Only Patty, in person, can convince me that the terrible, weary words that she uttered came from her heart and were delivered by her own free will," she said in a written statement issued at her suburban Hillsborough home.

On the tape delivered to San Francisco radio station KSAN, the 20-year-old newspaper heiress renounced her family and her way of life, called her father a "corporate liar" and said: "I have chosen to stay and fight."

The tape came from the Symbionese Liberation Army, which claims it kidnapped Miss Hearst. Police say the SLA is a multiracial group of about 25 heavily armed men and women dedicated to revolution and a utopian state.

Bates said the FBI doesn't believe everything on the taped message, and said: "There's nothing in the tapes that has changed our investigation at this point."

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning agreed Thursday that Miss Hearst's announcement wouldn't have a major effect on the investigation. "In my view it does very little," he said.

Browning explained that a prosecutor would have to take into consideration a victim's unwillingness to testify. But he added: "I think if you want my best guess, there will be prosecutions in this case, but I don't know of what crime."

Gov. Ronald Reagan also questioned the validity of the statement. Until Miss Hearst appears in person, "common sense dictates that you have to accept that she is still being held prisoner by the SLA," he said.

"If she is not, there's no reason in the world why she cannot come and make this statement in person," Reagan added Thursday at his weekly news conference in Sacramento.

Miss Hearst's father, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, said flatly on Wednesday: "Personally, I don't believe it, and I'll never believe it until she talks to her mother, her sisters, her cousins and is free to talk without any influence on her whatsoever."

"At that time, if it's her choice to become a member of an organization like this, we'll still love her and she's free to do whatever she wants."

Miss Hearst's family had been awaiting an announcement of the time and place of her release when the tape arrived declaring her decision to remain with the SLA and fight "for my freedom and the freedom of all oppressed people."

News Summary

Chaban-Delmas Announces Presidential Candidacy

(c) New York Times News Service

Paris — Jacques Chaban-Delmas, a liberal Gaullist and a former premier under President Pompidou, became the first announced candidate in the campaign to succeed the late Pompidou as president. His announcement was quickly followed by that of Edgar Faure, president of the National Assembly, and himself a former premier. Other candidates are expected for the election, which must be held no later than May 5.

Nixon Tax Inquiries Closed

Washington — The Internal Revenue Service and the Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation formally closed their inquiries into President Nixon's taxes. The committee commended the President's decision to pay more than $400,000 in back taxes and officially noted its agreement with the substance of most of the recommendations of its staff, which found that the President had underpaid his taxes during his first four years in office. (More on Page 3.)

Staff Told To Inquire

Washington — The staff of the House Judiciary Committee has reportedly been ordered to determine whether there was a violation of a constitutional provision barring a president from receiving extra compensation. The inquiry stems from the report on Nixon's taxes, which found that he personally benefitted from several federal expenditures and that they constituted taxable income.

Nixon's Wealth To Plummet

Washington — The White House said President Nixon's personal wealth will be virtually wiped out when he pays his tax bill of more than $460,000. Nixon has been given 30 days to pay, and will reportedly have to borrow almost half the amount to meet the deadline. Even so he will apparently be able to continue mortgage payments on his Florida and California homes.

Impeachment Panel Sets Deadline

Washington — The House Judiciary Committee demanded that President Nixon decide by Tuesday whether or not he will give the committee the 42 tape recordings it has requested for its impeachment inquiry. Declaring that "the patience of this committee is wearing thin," Peter W. Rodino Jr., the committee chairman, said "we will subpoena them if we must," perhaps as early as Wednesday, according to congressional sources. (More on Page 1.)

Negligible Shortage Predicted

Washington — The government predicted that gasoline shortages will be negligible this summer, despite fears that the end of the Arab oil embargo would tempt Americans to resume their pre-shoreline driving habits. "We expect the American people to practice conservation," said a federal energy official. (More on Page 3.)

Aaron Smashes No. 714

Cincinnati — On his first swing of the season, Hank Aaron hit the 714th home run of his major league career, tying Babe Ruth's record with a 400-foot, three-run line drive against the Reds in Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium. Cincinnati won the ball game 7-6. (More on Page 23.)

Xenia, Ohio, Is One Big Wreck

By RICK VAN SANT
Xenia, Ohio (UPI) — This southwestern Ohio city of 25,000 is a colossal wreck.

A massive tornado Wednesday afternoon literally turned much of the city and suburbs upside down.

Streets and alleys Thursday were filled with bricks and blocks that tumbled from businesses and homes. Residents touring their city found the destruction hard to believe.

A huge, steel flagpole in front of Central Junior High School is bent over the top of the building.

But that structure fared better than the city's senior high school two blocks away. It collapsed. About 1,500 students had left the building just 90 minutes before the twister touched down.

Five students were in the building when the tornado wrecked the school, but an alert janitor saw the funnel cloud coming and warned them to take cover. The janitor and students escaped injury.

"Had the tornado hit during school time probably about 500 kids would have been killed," said 17-year-old David Cox, who spent Thursday carrying battered musical instruments from the school's band room.

"Inside the first floor looks like someone took a knife and scraped it off," Cox said.

The schoolyard is filled with overturned school buses, slabs of mortar and brick and splintered trees.

In residential areas, from yards are no longer lawns. They are junk yards, littered with fallen trees, telephone poles and sofas that were hurled through living room picture windows.

Mrs. Isabelle Boli showed visitors her family room where the huge picture window had been broken by a tree that fell from a neighbor's yard.

The city park, once serene with its lake and trees, now resembles a war zone. Each of the hundreds of trees in the park is either down or reduced to a standing splinter.

In Arrowhead, a southwestern residential area of Xenia, the damage was worst of all. Sections of the crowded suburb where houses once stood are now vacant. The houses are flat. The structures have been reduced to a scrap pile.

City officials fear the battered boards and smashed bricks may be covering more victims.

Red Cross Asks Donations In Tornado Aid

Donations to help take care of victims of the tornadoes in the south and east can be sent to the local Red Cross Chapter, Harold Hill of the chapter said Thursday.

He said the Red Cross has sent about 800 staff members to the areas affected by the twisters.

Hill said contributions may be marked for use only in tornado area relief.

House Approves New Loan Bill For Middle Income Students

Washington (UPI) — The House approved 376 to 1 Thursday a bill making it easier for students from middle income families to get federally guaranteed loans.

The vote came as the House was debating a $1.14 billion supplemental authorization for the Defense Department that calls for increasing spending on military assistance to South Vietnam by $474 million.

The school loan bill, fashioned in a conference committee after the House and Senate versions differed, allows students from families with annual income of $15,000 or below to seek federally guaranteed loans up to $2,000 without proving need.

The only vote against it was cast by Rep. Earl F. Landgrebe, R-Ind.

Students applying for loans above $2,000—to a maximum of $2,500 — and students from families with incomes above $15,000 are eligible for guaranteed loans, but they must still prove their need.

The bill also allows local school districts to carry over into fiscal 1975 any leftover funds from this year.

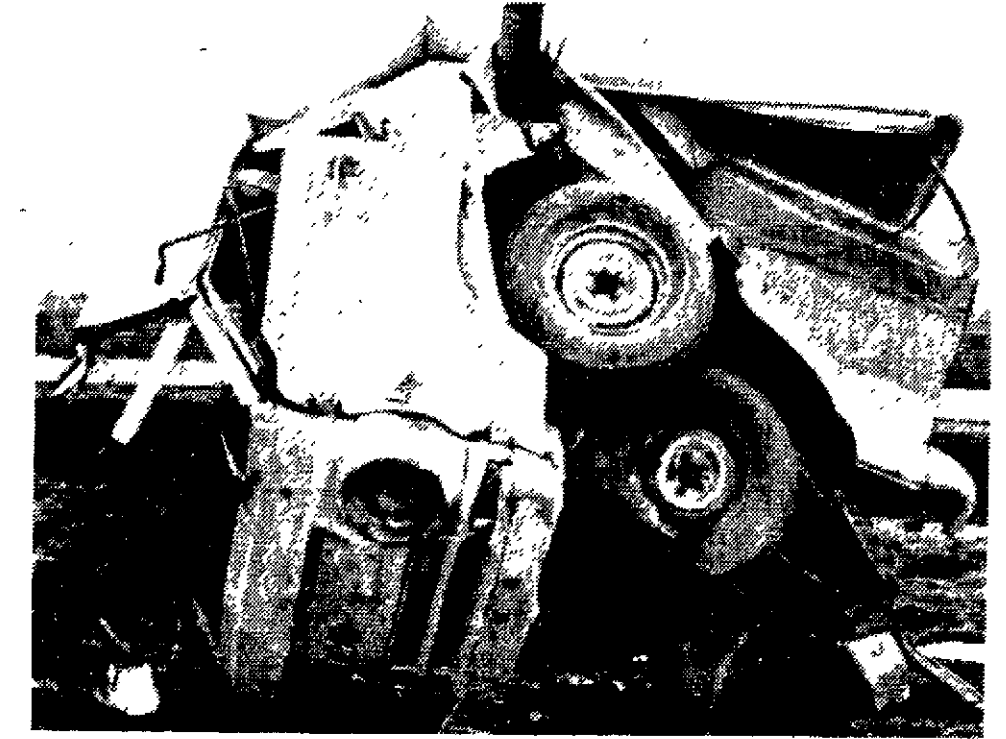

President Nixon released impounded school funds in December but some districts have yet to receive their allocations. It was feared they would have to spend the money before the end of the fiscal year, but the legislation removes the pressure and allows them to carry it over.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said the latter provision will "contribute greatly to the wise and thoughtful expenditure of funds at the local level."

Rep. John Dellenback, R-Ore., praised passage of the bill and said, "The problem of students from the middle income families not getting the loans they need was a critical one. . . . Families in the middle income range are often hardest hit by the costs of post-secondary education."

Jury Trying Chapin To Deliberate Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jury trying Dwight L. Chapin on charges that he lied under oath reported Thursday night it was nowhere near a verdict and asked to deliberate further on Friday.

After discussing the case for some four hours, the jury was called in by U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell and asked: "Is the jury close to a verdict?"

"No, sir," said Charles L. Wesley, the jury foreman.

The seven men and five women then decided to postpone further deliberations until Friday.

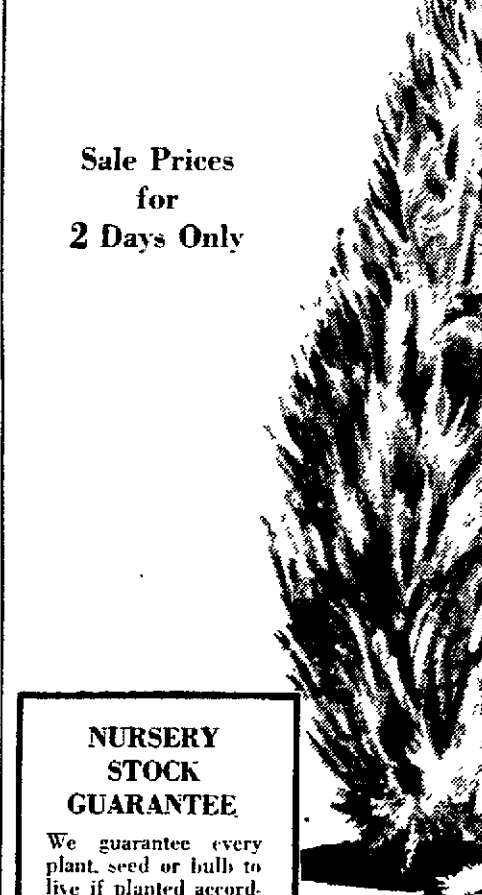

Neither Chapin nor his lawyers or prosecutors would comment afterward.

The federal grand jury began deliberations Thursday afternoon after only two days of testimony.

Shift Toward Coal Is Plan's Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department spelled out a five-year, $4.6 billion research program Thursday aimed at shifting the nation's energy base from oil and natural gas toward coal.

The department's proposal would represent about half of President Nixon's proposed $10-billion energy research program, whose other major feature would be development of the atomic fast-breeder reactor by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said his department's energy research could range from $3 billion to $5 billion over the five years from fiscal 1973 through 1979, depending on how economically its various projects can be achieved.

Morton, however, issued a 274-page book detailing a program with a five-year price tag totaling nearly $4.6 billion.

Of that total, more than $3.47 billion — fully 76 per cent — would be designated for research on the mining of coal and its conversion into oil and gas.

Coal conversion would not, in fact, develop new energy resources but would convert coal into liquid and gas forms that would be cleaner and easier to use and could substitute for natural oil and gas.

"This is not new energy, in a sense," Morton told a news conference, "but energy that will move the center of gravity away from petroleum toward coal, which better fits the resource in the ground."

U.S. coal reserves are huge in comparison with its oil and gas reserves.

While coal research would claim 76 per cent of the Interior Department's proposed five-year program, research on all other fuels would receive about 13.7 per cent of the funding; research on energy conservation would get about 8.5 per cent; and research on the transportation and storage of energy would get about 1.8 per cent.

The administration has already proposed to Congress the first year's portion of the energy research program, seeking $512.5 million in fiscal 1975 for the Interior Department projects.

FEO Boosts Gas Allocations

Washington (UPI) — The Federal Energy Office (FEO) Thursday boosted gasoline allocations to every state to at least 90% of 1973 levels, FEO Administrator William E. Simon announced.

But Simon's deputy John Sawhill warned at a news conference long gasoline lines are likely this summer if drivers fail to continue observing speed limits and other conservation measures.

The April allocations represent a 5% boost over March, when states were given 85% of the gasoline they used in 1973, the FEO said.

The announcement said gasoline suppliers had been ordered to draw 11.1 million barrels from their stocks in order to meet the April allocations.

Oil soon to flow to the United States from the Middle East following the end of the Arab embargo will boost stocks again shortly, said the FEO.

Sawhill told a news conference, "I expect the American people to continue conservation" of gasoline and other energy sources.

Asked if gasoline lines were a thing of the past, he said it was possible long lines might appear again during the summer.

"If we see a relaxation of these conservation measures, if we see an abandonment of car pooling, if we see people exceeding or not heeding the 55-miles-an-hour speed limit . . . then the situation could get worse," Sawhill said.

"The shortage could be as high as 6%."

Sawhill said the FEO intended to continue to push for energy conservation.

"We're concerned with air conditioning," he said. "We will be asking people to turn up their thermostats this summer."

Sawhill said federal offices already had agreed with his request to keep government buildings cooled only to 76 degrees.

The FEO deputy said he could not predict whether gasoline and oil prices would go up or down during the rest of 1974, but indicated he thought prices likely would rise.

Pricing Violations Found

Washington (UPI) — The counsel for the Federal Energy Office said Thursday his auditors have found possible "significant" pricing violations by oil refiners.

Testifying before the Senate Interior Committee, William N. Walker said the violations may have occurred in transfer pricing — the price foreign affiliates of U.S. oil companies charge parent companies.

" . . . Certain practices have come to light which FEO believes may constitute significant pricing violations by refiners in the area of transfer prices," Walker said.

But he said the evidence still is tentative and no action has been initiated against any company.

March Wholesale Prices Up Despite Fall In Farm Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices advanced sharply in March as increases for industrial goods outweighed declines in farm and food prices, the government reported Thursday.

The Labor Department said its overall wholesale price index rose a seasonally adjusted 1.3 per cent last month following a jump of 1.2 per cent in February. Unadjusted, the increase was 1.2 per cent.

Though substantial the increases of the past two months were more moderate than in the November-January period.

With metals and fuel leading the way, industrial commodities jumped 2.9 per cent both adjusted and unadjusted, in March, the second biggest monthly increase since 1946.

The rise was exceeded only by last November's 3.2 per cent increase.

Industrial prices are regarded as one of the most sensitive gauges of inflation in the economy, as opposed to food prices which move erratically from month to month.

Farm products, processed foods and feeds dropped in price for the first time in four months, by a seasonally adjusted 2.1 per cent. This was caused mainly by decreases for livestock, grains, raw cotton, eggs, poultry and fresh fruits and vegetables.

Since wholesale prices are usually reflected later at the retail level, higher prices for manufactured goods are likely in the coming months. However, there is no guarantee the decline in food prices will be passed along to consumers as supermarkets try to recoup profits squeezed in earlier months.

Chairman Herbert Stein of the President's Council of Economic Advisers called the March price report "markedly different" than in previous months, with farm prices declining and industrial commodities rising much faster.

The sharp increase in industrial prices was partly caused by the lifting of price controls and less heavily influenced by rising fuel prices as in the

New Car Sales Down 29% During March

Detroit (AP) — Sales of new cars during March fell 29% from the records levels of the year before, the auto companies reported.

A total of 779,000 automobiles were sold during the month, dealers said, with a 27% drop in imports and a 30% falloff in domestic brands from a year ago.

Auto analysts said, while the figures were not encouraging, they did not seem to indicate a worsening of the sharp drop in sales recorded in the first months of the year.

previous four months, he said.

Although Stein avoided any new predictions on inflation, the administration has said it expects the price explosion to ease during the later half of 1974.

Wholesale prices have risen 19.1 per cent over the past 12 months, with the index climbing in March to 154.5 of the 1967 average. This means that it cost $154.50 to purchase a volume of wholesale goods that cost $100 in the 1967 base period.

The decline in food followed three months of hefty increases. At the farm level, prices fell 4.2 per cent with livestock down 7.2 per cent, poultry 7.6 per cent, eggs 10.2 per cent and fruits and vegetables 1.8 per cent.

Consumer foods — those nearest the retail end of the price chain — dropped 1.4 per cent as meats, poultry and fish fell 7.9 per cent. Sugar products rose 13.8 per cent while cereal and bakery products were up 1.7 per cent.

Prices of refined petroleum products went up 5.9 per cent, largely because of higher prices for gasoline, residual fuels and lubricants. Crude petroleum prices held steady after soaring 13 per cent in February.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The President's tax case is a monumental thing in all regards. The figure the IRS says the President owes in back taxes and interest, $465,000, is a monumental one. That amount is more than millions of working men and women will earn in their entire lifetime.

And it is a lot to President Nixon, too, as it will take nearly half of his net worth. But the case is full of a host of other considerations of even more magnitude than the size of the tax bill itself.

It had been generally believed that any finding such as the one by the IRS and the staff of the joint congressional investigating committee would be political dynamite for the President. Now that such a finding has been made, the political impact of it is not so easy to determine.

It must be said that the case will further damage the President but the extent of the damage is unknown at this point. A key element in things to date is that there has been no finding of fraud in any of the President's returns. And there is likely to be no such finding unless it is ultimately made by the House Judiciary Committee in its impeachment deliberations.

Working to the President's advantage is the fact that he will not contest the finding by the IRS but will immediately pay what the government says he owes. That is really about the first open-and-shut act of good faith on the part of Mr. Nixon since the whole Watergate business began.

But it will still hurt the President that he took deductions and failed to report as income amounts so high that he now owes some $465,000 from 1969 through 1972. He remains in the position of having pursued his own self-interest to the substantial disadvantage of the government.

While his voluntary payment of what he is said to owe works to his favor in the area of his public image, it does not obscure the legal obligation of his debt. Unless challenged and reversed, that debt stands as a firm legal liability against the President.

A great many people will remain dismayed that the President of the United States has been found to have underpaid his personal income taxes by such a large amount. This is a result of questionable items having been decided in his favor at the time his returns were made out rather than what the intent of the law might be.

His returns sought to follow as liberal an interpretation of the letter of the law as possible and that is not the kind of attitude and approach which is or has been the nation's greatness. It is a demonstration of that philosophy which says that it is not the law but what you can get away with that is most important.

It is the kind of self-serving thing that, while not necessarily criminal, weakens rather than strengthens the fabric of society. It is not a demonstration of integrity first and all else second.

Nor is the President's case helped much by a White House statement which blames any and all errors or mistakes in his returns on those who prepared them for him. Certainly, the President knew exactly what was going on in connection with the gift of his vice presidential papers to the government and his failure to report large capital gains on real estate sales.

It is inconceivable that he could claim, as he does, no knowledge or approval of such things. The case may still not be the final straw in the President's long period of stress but it will make things all the more difficult for him.

President May Pay For Home Expenses

WASHINGTON — President Nixon finally may have to answer for all the money the taxpayers have squandered on his seashore estates in California and Florida.

His tax returns have been investigated by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, whose staff has concluded that some of the home improvements were intended solely for his personal benefit and, therefore, should have been declared as extra, taxable income.

This may violate the Constitution, which states the President shall receive compensation for his services but "he shall not receive within that period (his presidential term) any other emolument from the United States."

The story goes back to September 1972, when we began investigating reports that the President had charged the taxpayers for personal expenditures on his vacation homes.

We uncovered facts which my associate, Brit Hume, laid before the construction engineer, William Robinson, on September 28, 1972. This was reported back to Washington in a classified memo.

"Mr. Hume identified himself as being from Jack Anderson's office," stated the memo, "and was aware that Bill Robinson was the contracting officer at the Western White House, including the residence."

"It was apparent from the conversation that Mr. Hume was aware of all the contracts, scope of work, dollar amounts and contract numbers for all of the work which was done by Bill . . . Mr. Hume said it appeared there was something fishy going on and said he would like to see the records."

Spanish villa at San Clemente, Calif. The President even stuck the taxpayers, we reported, for $13,500 to buy a new furnace.

Subsequently, we wrote about many other personal expenditures which the President squeezed out of the taxpayers. These ranged from $388.78 to stop the fireplace in his den from smoking to $621 for an ice-maker that would make ice cubes without a hole in the middle. Even the cost of stamping his golf tees with the presidential logo came out of the public till.

Now, the President may have to count these expenditures as personal, taxable income. The final ruling, of course, will be up to the Internal Revenue Service which has been working closely with the congressional tax investigation.

On the House side, some Republicans are quietly trying to narrow the impeachment inquiry and to eliminate the question of home improvements. But others believe these expenditures violated the Constitution and, therefore, may be an impeachable offense.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter, who helped set up a $45 million federal beef-buying program to aid cattle producers, happens to be a well-to-do cattle producer himself. The plan is a bonanza for cattlemen, but a bomb for the housewives because it will keep beef prices artificially high.

Although Yeutter's farm in Nebraska nets him about $15,000 to $20,000 a year from cattle, he told us he sees only a "nominal" conflict in the fact he reviewed and advised on the plan as a member of the Commodity Credit Board.

The bright young Ph.D., who served as the President's top agriculture campaign aide, says he will lose money because, as an agriculture official, he did not use "hedges" against beef losses available to other cattlemen.

'See That Next Summit Yet, Henry?'

Wednesday's Good Example

In an amazing burst of responsibility, the Nebraska Legislature Wednesday — on the 56th day of the 60-day 1974 session — turned to a host of priority bills that had appeared to be dead-ended and either advanced or eliminated most of those 45 bills on the first-stage list. A similar number of bills were moved to final reading.

Throughout the marathon work day, Speaker Richard Proud was in complete command, keeping debate to an agreed-upon limit in a business-like but nevertheless friendly atmosphere which has been almost foreign to the Unicameral this session.

The hard work the lawmakers did Wednesday must be put in a proper perspective, however.

If the Legislature is serious about exerting itself as a strong and independent branch of government, it will have to follow the example set Wednesday when it reconvenes next Monday. It will have to complete work on those bills it wants and pass them on the 59th day (next Wednesday) and then change its schedule so that it will be in a position to consider overriding any vetoes the governor may drop between the 59th and the last day of the session. To do otherwise, to settle back in the old routine, will make Wednesday's work almost illusory.

And while it is commendable that the senators worked as hard as they did Wednesday, it is too bad that they fooled around as much as they did earlier during the session so that the priority bills acted on this week got only ten minutes debate each. The Legislature, it should be remembered, prides itself on being a deliberative body.

Two conclusions might be drawn from Wednesday's experience. One, that annual sessions do work, but it takes senatorial self-discipline and leadership from the chair.

And in that latter connection, Speaker Proud's performance, which won him a standing ovation at the end of the marathon Wednesday session, is an argument in favor of members in the future electing strong speakers who will exercise such leadership on a day-to-day basis.

Trend Toward Independence

A Harvard professor said in Omaha recently that western democracies, including the United States, are seeing a dangerous increase in the number of independent voters. A stable democracy, said Dr. Seymour Lipset, depends on people "voting for their party."

If the United States is drifting toward instability and this nation's two-party system is on the verge of collapse, as Lipset suggests, it really isn't the fault of independent voters, who now comprise an estimated 40% of the U.S. voting public.

Dr. Lipset would probably agree that it is the fault of the politicians and the political system.

The voter drift toward independence is the result of "fed up-withness," Lipset asserts. And who can blame the growing number of people who are becoming fed up with partisanship and politics in general?

ANTHONY LEWIS

The Tax Report

WASHINGTON — The sudden denouement of President Nixon's tax saga is another in a series of seemingly endless national shocks. It is not just the total amount the congressional staff found due, a staggering $476,431 without penalties, or the $432,787 plus interest that the President has agreed to pay on demand of the Internal Revenue Service. It is the petty, the very petty, details of the ways tax was avoided.

In deducting 25% of all the operating expenses of his home in San Clemente, Cal., Nixon included a portion of the cost of watering a three-hole golf course in 1969 and 1970. He took depreciation on a $2,300 credenza used at Key Biscayne. He deducted $5,391 spent in 1969 for food, beverages, decorations and rentals at "Miss Tricia Nixon's masked ball," as the report put it. He deducted $23,578 for what the report called "food expenses of the First Family while at Key Biscayne, San Clemente and Camp David."

The figures and the facts are the more telling because of the notably dispassionate, indeed dry, tone of the report. The staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation is known for its utter avoidance of partisanship, and no one could read this massive report without recognizing that it had held to that standard.

The staff made a point of observing that the President could properly have taken some deductions, for example to buy Christmas cards or flowers for public gifts, if his lawyers had advanced some substantiation of those purposes. They did not.

Again, in finding that $92,298 in improvements at the Key Biscayne and San Clemente residences were primarily for Nixon's benefit, the report emphasized that it was not making any judgment on the propriety of the governmental spending. It said only that the money must be regarded as income to Nixon, as must $27,105 in government air trips provided for his family and friends.

On the largest and most important issue — the deductions for Nixon's alleged gift of $576,000 in personal papers to the nation — the committee staff made compendious legal and factual findings against allowing the claimed deduction. It agreed with the many outside tax lawyers and scholars who had written on the subject, on issue after issue: whether the papers were really conveyed to the archives before the tax deduction cut-off date of July 25, 1969, whether Nixon retained a property interest in them, whether the deed was properly signed and so on.

Just why the President's aides tried to delay the congressional report's publication is mystifying. In any event, Nixon always had to deal with the Internal Revenue Service. It had agents working closely with the joint committee investigation, and it would almost certainly have felt obligated to serve deficiency notices on him if he failed to pay the amounts indicated — or most of them — voluntarily.

Indications are that the I.R.S. has ruled out a fraud charge, either civil or criminal. The committee staff carefully took no position on that, or on the lesser penalties for negligence, but it did raise an eyebrow here and there about the behavior of Nixon's onetime tax lawyers. After saying that it had no evidence on the President's knowledge of the doubled deed, the report observed that it was signed by an assistant counsel in the White House on April 10, 1970, "the same day Nixon signed the tax returns."

A finding of negligence would have added a 5% penalty to the deficiencies, bringing the congressional total due with interest to $490,079. Civil fraud would have added 50% to all the deficiencies (whether individually fraudulent or not) and would suspend the statute of limitations on the 1969 return to make interest due there,

In the Tuesday, April 2, edition of the paper, I noticed a paragraph or two that raised the temperature of my Dutch blood about 199°. Quoting: "And $250,000.00 to ease the plight of Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha." Quoting further: "The help for Joslyn was proposed by Senator John Savage of Omaha, who asked the state for a $2.1 million appropriation over a three-year period. Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff succeeded on a 14-4 vote in cutting the amount to a quarter-million dollars for the coming year and the amended Savage proposal was adopted 25-7."

Who owns the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha? The City of Omaha? A private corporation? A private non-profit corporation? Whom are we giving $250,000.00 to — and why?

What caused the plight of the Joslyn Art Museum? Too much overhead? Too much spent for pictures, etc.? Poor management? Why can't Omaha support their art museum? What will the $250,000.00 be spent for?

Something else looks queer. Omaha has 13 senators and Lincoln has six senators (19 from the two cities) in the Legislature. Carpenter's amendment changing the amount from $2½ million to $250,000.00 carried 14 for, seven against. What happened to the others? I suspect the other 14 would have lined them up for the next vote.

According to my information, we have 49 senators who are supposed to represent all the people of Nebraska. Fourteen senators, or 28½% of those members of the Legislature, voted to give Omaha Joslyn $250,000.00 on the amendment. With only 21 senators voting, 14 for and seven against (42.9% of the membership), they can amend an amendment forcing the taxpayers of Nebraska to make a $250,000.00 gift to bail out the City of Omaha.

Not much doubt that LB1054 will pass. It is an appropriation bill and it appropriates money for other necessary expenditures. The governor has the authority to make a line veto in an appropriation bill. By this method he can veto the $250,000.00 gift to Omaha Joslyn Art Museum. He should use his veto power in this case.

It seems as though we must "ease the financial plight" of Omaha every once in awhile. In the case of Omaha University, the State of Nebraska had to take the burden of O.U. off the taxpayers of Omaha. Now we are asked to make a grant to Joslyn — and we outstate taxpayers won't even receive a "thank you".

What next from our largest, most prosperous city in the State of Nebraska, the Gateway to the West? If their senators get by with soaking us $250,000.00 for this, why not more money for their City Auditorium, River Development Plan, street repairs, and for enlarging the water and sewer system? Maybe some of their theatres need help.

I have served on several state wide committees with residents of Omaha. One thing is very apparent: If it is good for Omaha or if Omaha has a chance to profit by it, then the Omaha people are for it. If outstate people benefit, then the Omaha committee members lose interest. There is no end to the aid and assistance the citizens of Omaha could provide for the outstate cities and towns, if they were of a mind to.

Why should we outstate bail Omaha out again? Why should a minority of our senators be able to hook us outstate people for $250,000.00 purely for the benefit of an ailing Omaha museum? Come on, Mr. Governor, be a good friend of outstate Nebraska voters and veto the Omaha bail-out.

Flag-Waving

Lincoln, Neb.
There's a book I used to read when I was a kid, and I find it helpful to read even today. The stories all had a moral to them.

The book tells the story of a tribe of people and how they lived. One of the men in this tribe, so the story goes, stole some clothes and money. When he was found out, the tribal leaders took the man and his family out of camp and they all killed him. The man was a traitor to them.

Then this same tribe went out and sacked and burned every village and town that they encountered. Everyone in those towns was killed, including women and children. The tribe then grew and became a nation upon the bloody ruins that they had created.

To these people, just about any cause was a cause for fighting. They fought when any neighbor nation crossed their borders, or when their friends were in trouble. They even went to war when their national honor was besmudged.

One of the ladies of the tribe, pretending to be a prostitute, went into the tent of an enemy king one night and cut off his head to take it back to her city.

Another time a small group of them got together at night and went down upon an enemy camp and slaughtered them in their sleep.

What is this bloody book. I can hear some horrified people cry. The book is called the Holy Bible. And before anybody gets the wrong ideas, I should say that that portion of the Bible is NOT all I read. In fact, I rarely read that section but I do know that it is there, and it was not excluded when St. Paul said, "All Scripture . . . is profitable . . ."

And our own history is not dissimilar. Read your history books. How many died in war so that we could live in freedom here in America today. If those men had not been willing to die for our flag, for this country, those traitors who went to Canada (even Achan was "misguided" when he stole the money and clothes; he "moralized" it) wouldn't have had a country from which to run. To give those traitors amnesty is to tell the heroes of past wars that they were fools and dolts. It is to tell the men at Concord, Valley Forge, New Orleans, Vicksburg, in World Wars I and II, Seoul, and Hue that we spit on their graves.

In the word "amnesty" we are telling the world that as far as we are concerned, communism is free to slaughter millions as they did in Russia, China, Vietnam.

Grant them amnesty and I would invite Frank Williams and his whole misguided religious sect to burn my honorable discharge. That piece of paper held so lightly by Mr. Williams is a symbol of the blood of American dead who didn't seek the Canadas and Swedens of their eras.

Mr. Williams may then burn, trample and defecate upon the flag that represents the lives of those same selfless men who sought to attain freedom for . . . ourselves and our posterity . . .

If America becomes a 16th-rate nation, as one columnist suggested a while back in The Star, we and the whole world will be so on our knees.

If this be war-mongering, so be it. I stand on good ground. If this be flag-waving, I stand in a grand company of flag-wavers.

Anti-Abortion Bill

Sargent, Neb.
I wish to call attention to the fact that it is within the power of Governor Exon to advance the anti-abortion bill (LB 939, Revised) to the floor of the Nebraska Legislature before this session is over.

While it is in conflict with the ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court, I understand that no permissive abortions (on demand) are allowed in the State of North Dakota at the present time.

If enough states had the guts to stand on the states rights guaranteed in the Constitution of the United States, the edict of the court could not be enforced. Everyone interested in saving the lives of the innocent unborn should contact Governor Exon at once and insist that he move this legislation to the floor before this session is over. Then we can see how the dummies perform before the primary elections. No need to award them with re-election if they don't perform according to the Judeo-Christian ethic.

As adult sponsor of the Lincoln Community Playhouse Teen-Age Clown Alley No. 40, I wish to thank them publicly for the enormous contribution they gave to the Easter Seal Telethon. Since efforts such as theirs so often go on and the public does not realize the extra physical movement behind it, I can easily and proudly say they brought in $300 — not counting the money made at the make-up booth. The booth could still be running, but our energy was going with it.

I asked one of my clowns: "How did you get all this money so fast?" It was rather a tear-in-the-eye answer I received: "Oh, if you kid about asking and telling them what the purpose is, most people hand over and smile. It's just how you ask."

Hats off to our teen-age clowns! As their sponsor, I'm very proud of them.

Queen Elizabeth Cruise Was 'A Ball'

NEW YORK (AP) — Plucky, weary and assuaged with full refunds and VIP treatment, the first of four plane-loads of passengers from the liner Queen Elizabeth 2's ill-starred Caribbean cruise arrived at Kennedy Airport Thursday. "It was the best party I ever went to," said Larry Marinelli, 35, of Queens, N.Y.

"It was an experience I'll never forget," said Ruth Pownall of Fall River, Mass. "I wouldn't have missed this trip for the world."

Their remarks seemed typical of 351 passengers aboard a Trans-International Airlines flight chartered by Cunard Lines, which operates the Queen.

Three more flights bearing the rest of the ship's passengers were due here later in the day.

A total of 1,648 passengers were transferred at sea from the Queen to the cruise ship Sea Venture Wednesday after a boiler breakdown left the QEB dead in the water without electrical power.

The passengers, many of whom spent the night on Sea Venture's decks and in her public rooms, arrived at Hamilton, Bermuda, at 7.10 a.m. They were taken in buses to the planes.

Ralph M. Bhana, Cunard's chief executive in North America, said the full passage refunds, the cost of using Sea Venture and the plane chartering fees would total $1.5 million to $2 million.

Leo Solinger, 64, of Arlington, Va., said the worst part of the power failure was a lack of elevator service on the multi-story Queen, but added, "the reason we're taking this nicely is that we understand the circumstances."

Judy Marinelli, a nurse, agreed with her husband that the cruise was "a ball." She spoke of camaraderie and the sense of adventure.

After the sea transfer, she said, the Queen's crew sang to the departing Sea Venture.

"Everybody was waving and cheering, and some women were crying," she said. "Nobody was afraid."

Bob Pender of New Bedford, Mass., recalled "the senior citizens were like U.S. Marines getting off the boats and onto the launches."

One senior citizen, wheelchair-bound Bertha R. Stephenson, 81, of Washington, D.C., said the water transfer "scared me to death."

Aboard the Sea Venture, the passengers said, they were able to get their first hot showers in 48 hours and break a string of cold-cut meals washed down with free, but warm, beer and whiskey.

The Sea Venture presented each of them with a "certificate of an unusual event on the high seas." It read:

"This is history." At the airport in Bermuda, each also received checks ranging from $400 to $1,000 from Cunard.

Farmers Union: Meat Price Unjust

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price spread between what farmers get for their animals and what consumers pay for choice grade beef has increased 45 per cent since last July, the National Farmers Union told Congress Thursday.

"The movement of food prices and particularly meat prices," said Ben H. Radcliffe, "strongly indicates that the giant retail food distributors, who now control more than two-thirds of the retail food outlets, appear to be acting in concert to maintain their profit margins at levels that are completely unrealistic and unjustified when related to the prices being paid to farmers."

Radcliffe's statement on behalf of the National Farmers Union came at a House agriculture subcommittee hearing on the meat price situation.

He said that Price Commission regulations provide that each firm that increases a price on an item pursuant to an authorization granted under the volatile pricing rule shall reduce that price to the extent of any later decrease in the cost of the raw material or partially processed product upon which the price increase was based.

"However, approximately two years later, we find that consumers are paying prices at retail for beef and beef products in violation of these regulations," he said.

Sam Washburn of Fowler, Ind., chairman of the National Lamb Feeders Association's board of directors, said Congress "should attempt to keep the livestock and meat production industry as free from restrictive regulations as possible."

In a statement to the subcommittee, he said the Agriculture Department "should improve its statistical reporting so as to show accurate packer and chain store margins on lamb. There should be a mechanism to force margins downward as livestock prices weaken."

CED Panel Urges 'Polluter Pays' Idea

Washington (UPI) — A group of natural business leaders Thursday recommended a "polluter pays" program under which industries and individuals would be charged fees until they modify or eliminate waste disposal methods that poison the environment.

The group recommended regional agencies "that can tailor air, water and solid waste pollution abatement to geographic needs."

A 74-page report embodied the suggestions on a national policy by the research and policy committee of the Committee for Economic Development.

The CED is an independent nonprofit, nonpartisan research and educational organization of 200 business executives and educators.

It said that annual costs for environmental improvements could nearly triple — to some $40 billion — by 1981 but that the nation can both afford and attain a high quality environment "within a relatively few years if certain conditions can be met."

The CED warned against "crash abatement programs that impose excessively stringent controls that waste valuable resources."

"Costs escalate rapidly as pollution abatement requirements approach 100%," the panel said, noting that federal law required the elimination of all liquid industrial discharges by 1985 and 90% of 1970-level automobiles emissions by 1976.

The panel recommended modifying rigid and costly environmental controls with market system incentives that, as far as possible, embody the "polluter pays" principle.

A series of experimental programs was urged that in part would levy fees on all polluters of waterways, adjust stringent nationwide air quality standards to suit regional conditions and finance disposal of abandoned automobiles with fees collected at the time of licensing. California, Illinois and Maryland have experimented with fees, collected as part of the licensing process, to finance disposal of cars not recycled.

Skull Found At Unadilla

Unadilla — A skull believed to be related to a bus crash during a May, 1950 flood has been discovered in the Little Nemaha River 2½ miles east of Unadilla.

Otoe County Sheriff Russell Feals has said the skull could be that of the driver or one of the passengers on an American Bus Lines bus which skidded off the road in high water, drowning four passengers. The bodies of the driver and the estimated four to six other passengers never have been found.

The skull was discovered by Emmett Davis and Keith Liesemeyer, both of Syracuse, who were on a fishing expedition.

Sometimes small is right.

Opel Manta. (Length: 176.1; Width: 64.3; Wheelbase: 95.7") A sporty car for the imported or sub-compact buyer. Perfect for singles or young marrieds, too.

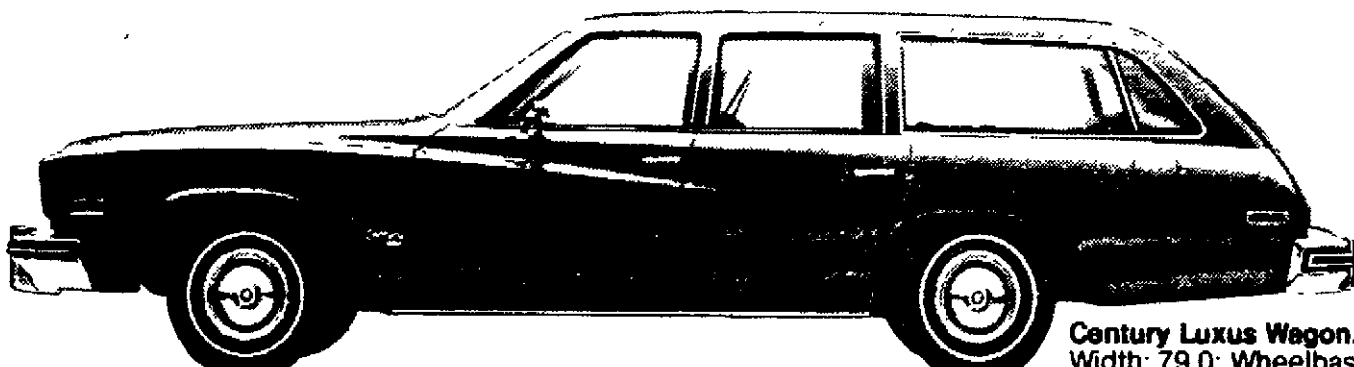

Apollo. (Length: 200.2; Width: 72.7; Wheelbase: 111.0") The Buick of small cars. Six cylinders; six passengers. An ideal city/suburban runabout. For medium-sized or 2-car families.

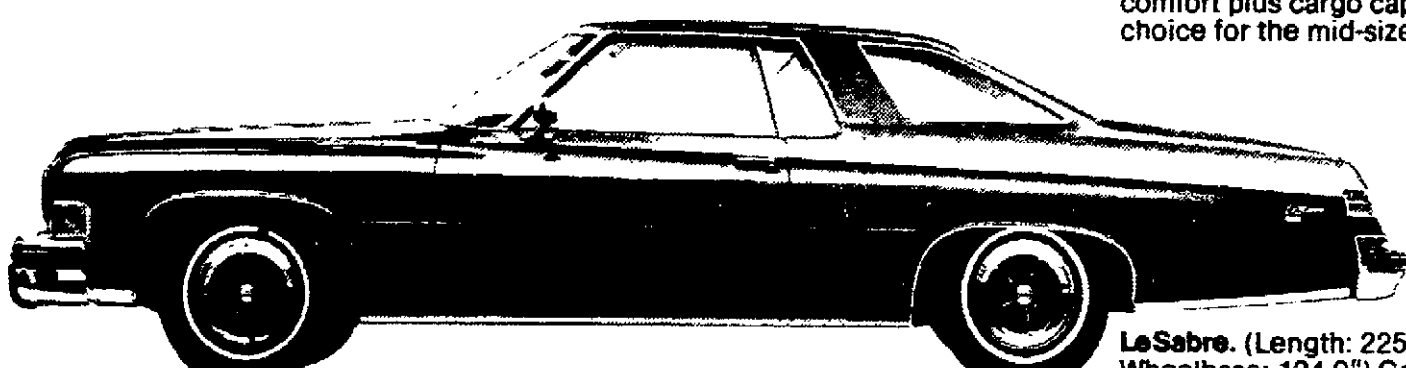

Century Regal Coupe. (Length: 212.0; Width: 79.0; Wheelbase: 112.0") A luxurious mid-size car for buyers torn between "small" and "big". A smart buy for the personal car lover, too.

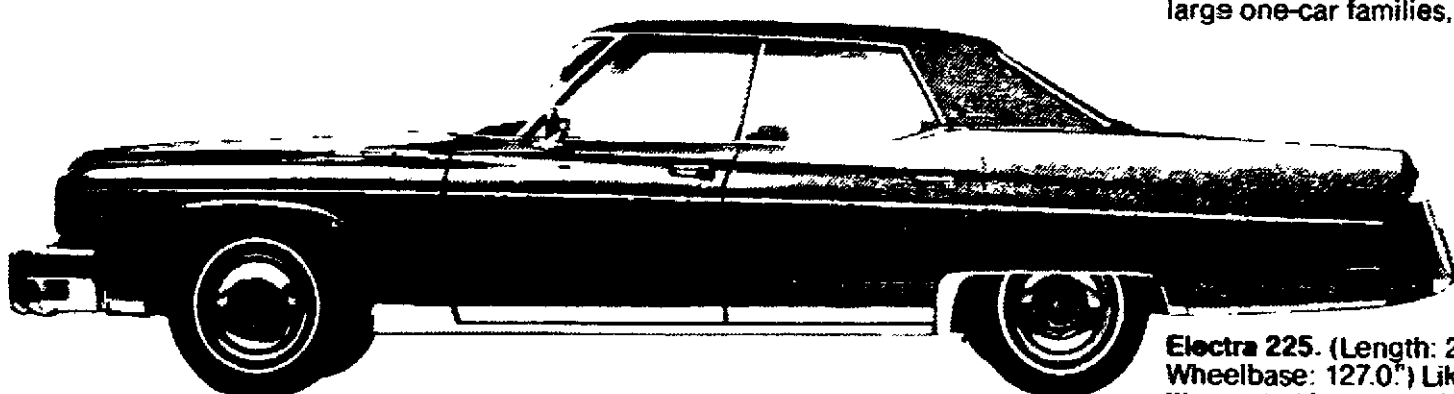

Sometimes big is right.

Century Luxus Wagon. (Length: 218.2; Width: 79.0; Wheelbase: 116.0") Creature comfort plus cargo capacity make it a wise choice for the mid-size wagon buyer.

LeSabre. (Length: 225.9; Width: 79.9; Wheelbase: 124.0") Generous trunkroom for large one-car families, businessmen, traveling.

Electra 225. (Length: 231.5; Width: 79.9; Wheelbase: 127.0") Like other full-size Buicks it's most at home on the open road, where its cruising capacity and roominess can be fully appreciated.

Buick makes both right.

Pick the size that fits the way you drive. Today's gasoline situation is forcing all of us to take a long, analytical look at the cars we're driving. The intelligent way to pick the right one is to look at how you use your car. For some people, a small car like our Opel is perfect. Others who drive more or carry more need more car. And Buick has them in all shapes and sizes. How about you? Think about how you use your car and pick the size that's right for the way you drive. For help, visit your Buick dealer. With cars like Opel, Apollo, Century, LeSabre, Riviera and Electra.

BUICK

From Opel to Electra 225, Buick has a car for the way you drive.

POSTCARD

by

San Francisco — I flew from warm Mexico into rainy San Francisco. Adios muchachos. Aeronaves de Mexico has changed its name to Aeromexico. But not the flying pattern.

The back of the seat said: "Life jacket under your seat."

I felt under the seat. The pocket was there but not the jacket. None under the seats beside me. It's rare to find life jackets on Mexican airlines — I always check out of curiosity.

Once I asked a stewardess and she said: "They are not really necessary because we don't land on water. We land at the airport."

Ah Mexico!

What's new? For two weeks I had no newspaper. No TV. No radio I sat barefoot in the sun. Jose, the bartender, fueled me with XXX beer and unlikely tales of buried treasure.

I picked up the paper at home. Still talk of Watergate. (My aching back!)

Hell, the black cat, disappeared the day I left. Came back the day I came home. An intelligent animal.

A great deal of mail from cat people. They are concerned about too many unwanted kittens in the world. They urge me to have Hell put in neutral.

The Vitamin Lady left a note: "You must be nearly out of Vitamin E."

I take a multi. It's all purpose vitamin. I can't tell what it does to me, but I feel like I'm doing something constructive.

A beauty parlor lady is growing hair on my head with rare Mexican herbs. Aztec witchcraft.

Thus we try to hold back the march of time. And the doctor puts the judas cuff on your arm. Pumps it up. Listens. And says: "Hmmm."

I sat in the sun at Finisterra "the end of the world" and typed and drank XXX beer and watched the gray whales spouting toward Scammon's Lagoon and a whale of a time. The sky was the color of bleached Levi's. You could have dipped a pen in the blue sea and written with it.

Jose offered to lend me this guitar. Once I wrote about Jose and friends sent him a clip. It's good to rate high with the poolside bartender.

I said: "Jose, what about that buried treasure on the beach?" He said: "Well, it's God's truth, Senor that —" That got me another two paragraphs. In the Baja California sun, we look forward to the end of the page. Period. Endit.

Hell was not hungry — the cat is mooching somewhere but I can't find out where it is. She stretched out on the chair and looked at me with witch's green eyes.

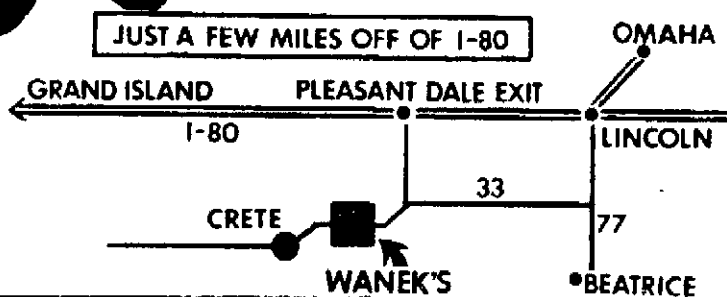

Her boyfriend name of Whitefoot came by to see her. She gave him a cold look. "Lay a paw on me, Big Boy, and you've had it."

"What do women want?" said the great Freud in exasperation.

It's hard to make the jump from warm Mexico — barefoot, beer in hand — to shoes and ties and the urgencies of civil life. "You are cordially invited" "Long distance is calling you." "We are calling your attention to this account..." Oh, oh. Here come de judge.

Printing Error Changed Figure In Salary Story

The dollar increase in teachers salaries for 1974-75 offered by the Lincoln Board of Education in negotiations with the Lincoln Education Association was incorrectly reported in the Thursday morning Star. Because of a printer's typographical error, the story said the board's modified proposal would increase from $40 to $475 the flat dollar amount added to each salary step. The correct amounts in the board's offer would increase its previous salary offer by $25 — from $450 to $475.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

By SIDNEY OMARR

Forecast For Friday

If you want a "bad debt" collected, call in Taurus. These persons can combine charm and muscle. The Taurus native appreciates the meaning of money, its value and how it can best be used. Taurus is not easy to understand; the streak of determination often becomes plain obstinacy. But this person will stand by in time of crisis, will put shoulder to wheel until vehicle turns and situation has gone from worse to better to good. Taurus provides the saving grace, is the solid mark, the individual who goes forth and collects what is needed.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Health, vitality, dealings with neighbors and relatives — these are featured. Strive for balance. Stick to principles, but remember concessions can be constructive. Those around you are argumentative and you may have to insert element of humor.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Restlessness, change, dealings with Gemini. Virgo persons are spotlighted. Emotions tend to dominate. Exercise greater degree of control — or be prepared to pay the price. Love's quarrel could be on agenda. Something constructive will result.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Stick to facts. Answer queries in calm manner. Many now seem afraid of you. There is job ahead, that of winning confidence. Some family members want to tell you something. But you apparently are in no mood to be told much of anything.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): See beyond the immediate. Surface appearances could be deceptive. Know it and dig deep for additional information. Pisces, Virgo individuals could figure prominently. Some persons, behind the scenes, are intent on making road a bit rougher for you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Those who advise you about money may themselves be in need of counsel. Stick to what you know — refuse to be tempted by get-rich-quick schemes. Some of your past desires are now outmoded — you know it and it would be wise to admit it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You find ways of reaching more persons more of the time. Involves distribution, advertising and publicity. Aries, Libra persons could figure prominently. Love's strings could be out of sorts. Know it and act in mature manner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Bring forth creative resources. What seems to be a lost cause can be successfully recovered. Leo, Aquarius persons play significant roles in key roles. Be versatile; display sense of humor. One in authority is having a difficult time in personal life. Know it and be considerate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): If thorough, you resolve dilemma. What seems uncertainty and delay could actually be an opportunity for you to gain second wind. Know it and make the most of your time. Avoid becoming involved in petty bickering.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are stimulated, flattered and given chance for meaningful activity. Member of opposite sex is likely to be involved. Don't play games with emotions. You could become intricately involved. Be aware. You get nothing for nothing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Questions and concerning, cooperative efforts, contracts, marriage. Offer to wives of one close to you. Avoid trying to force your way. Diplomacy now is key to ultimate satisfaction. Taurus, Libra could be in picture.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have a way of wanting your own way, of talking yourself in and out of delicate situations. You are attractive, talented but often lack inner confidence. May should be a most significant month for you in 1974. Persons born under Gemini, Aquarius and Sagittarius play important roles in your life. Astrology Secret is Lincoln Star, Box 3240, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017. You'll find answers in Sidney Omarr's booklets, "Secret Hints for Men and Women."

Peterson For More Reliance On Income Tax

A tax reform package, which puts more emphasis on the state income tax and changes the operation of the property tax, has been suggested by University of Nebraska economist Wallace Peterson.

Peterson offered the proposals to Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly as "ideas that are worth some serious discussion and analysis."

They do not represent "full blown proposals that will once and for all eliminate all inequities in our combined system of state and local taxation," the chairman of NU's Department of Economics told Warner in a letter.

Here are the major suggestions, offered in response to an inquiry from Warner:

- more dependence on the state income tax, and less dependence upon the sales tax, in lieu of the present 50-50 revenue split between the two major state taxes.
- Income Tax Reform
- reform of the income tax system, including a change in its base which would allow Nebraska to wipe out federal tax loopholes and adjust exemption amounts, or adopt its own rate structure, if desired.
- change the property tax into primarily a tax on land values, while phasing it out as a tax on improvements on the land.

Warner had requested Peterson's ideas after hearing the economist's radio comments on enactment of the senator's school aid bill last month.

Peterson said he "thought there was validity to the governor's point that under our present state tax system, the lower income groups may bear a disproportionate and unfair portion of the tax burden."

Aid to Education

Peterson wrote that he has "always supported the idea of increased state aid for education," and he later said in an interview that he would be opposed to the suggestion of a referendum vote on the new law.

"The proper place for tax decisions is in the Legislature," he said.

In reforming the sale-income tax system, he said, "taxing income to a greater degree than taxing expenditures (through the sales tax) would make the system more equitable."

Peterson also suggested that the sales tax itself could be made less regressive by taxing services, as well as commodities, and by increasing the food sales tax credit.

If the income tax base were changed from the individual's federal tax liability to his adjusted gross income, Peterson said, it would allow Nebraska "greater flexibility" in devising a more equitable system.

WHAT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CAN do for a family.

It can bring an understanding of God's closeness and care, helping each one in the family in everything he does.

It can develop a deep love for the Bible, and joyful obedience to God's law.

It can teach every member, and the family together, to heal problems in the way Jesus showed.

How can Christian Science do all this? Through Sunday School classes that strengthen children. Through Sunday services that inspire parents. Through Wednesday testimony meetings where personal accounts of healing are shared. Through Reading Rooms where truths are pondered in quiet.

Won't you invite Christian Science into your family's life?

Civil Service Team To Visit County

ByLYNN ZERSCHLING
Star Staff Writer

Members of a U.S. Civil Service team will be in Lancaster County next week to interview county department heads and workers as the next step in formulating a county personnel plan.

Discussions with the employees will help the commission nail down job classifications and salary scales essential to the plan's operation, Commissioner Jan Gauger said Thursday.

The system will bring some 700 employees under the broad umbrella of a single integrated system. Excluded are the elected officials, bailiffs department heads, sheriff deputies, attorneys and others covered by the State Merit System.

Gauger said county workers will have an opportunity to review the classifications given their job with the Civil Service System members. A second interview will be held later on, she said.

System Authorized

Creation of a comprehensive civil service system for the county was authorized under LB995, passed by the Legislature this session. The measure provides for recruiting, hiring, firing, paying and promoting county workers.

Target date for the program's implementation is July 1, the beginning of the county's fiscal year.

In the meantime, the County Board's administrative assistant, mission, whose recommendations are still being formulated, Gauger stated.

In addition to working out the details of the plan, the County Board will be responsible for appointing two members to the Personnel Policy Board, authorized by LB995.

Two other members will be appointed by the elected officials, while one member will be designated by classified county employees.

The board will review rules and regulations for the new system, which will be forwarded to the County Board for action. The five-member panel, which drew heated opposition from the elected officials and the County Employees Association, also will serve as a final appeals board for employee grievances.

The elected officials and association members said they favored a more autonomous policy board, free from the overseeing eyes of the commissioners.

Challege To Tax Exemptions Described As 'Pure Nonsense'

The State Justice Department Thursday called much of the legal logic behind a constitutional challenge of a law granting property tax exemptions to businesses and farmers "pure nonsense."

In a brief filed with the Nebraska Supreme Court, Asst. Atty. Gen. Ralph Gillan defended the 1971 Personal Property Tax Exemption Act as reasonable and within the Legislature's prerogative, regardless of the act's philosophical, economic or political wisdom.

The 1971 law allows a 62 1/2% property tax exemption on farm equipment and business inventory; the counties are reimbursed by the state for the loss of revenue.

Two senators who opposed the bill, Sens. David Stahmer and John DeCamp, are questioning the bill's legality on the basis that the exemptions allowed are unreasonable and in effect constitute an open-ended appropriation.

The challengers maintain the exemptions must be based on the type of property and not its use. They also contend the exemption must be total and cannot be partial.

Gillan said the law does not even imply such restrictions on legislative powers.

"The Legislature may classify 'as it sees fit,' not as the court, the attorney general or the plaintiffs see fit," he said. "Provided that real differences exist between the classes which could rationally justify the different treatment, absolute discretion is lodged in the Legislature, and its will is supreme."

The rational justification for the exemptions does exist, he said.

"The existence of a healthy agricultural industry is very generally deemed to be vital to the economic well-being of the state," Gillan said. "There is a widespread belief that farmers pay a disproportionate amount of property tax, and that their income in comparison to their investment is low."

All of these considerations... no doubt led to the exemptions granted to them... The tax saving may well be passed on in the form of reduced prices to consumers."

As for the exemption on business inventory, Gillan said the reduced taxes also could be passed on to the consumer and may give Nebraska businesses a competitive advantage over foreign businesses. Consequently, that exemption could also be in the public interest and justifiable, he said.

If you think you're receiving the most allowed by law, you're receiving less than a Nebraska Central passbook saver.

Nebraska City's Airport Plan Draws Only Scant Opposition

By JOEL THORSON
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Nebraska City — A controversial Nebraska City Airport Authority proposal for a municipal airport drew little opposition in a public hearing here Thursday night.

Eleven people testified in favor of the proposed airport, citing its importance to Nebraska City's growth, while characterizing the private Grundman Airport as unsafe and inadequate for most aircraft.

Only two people testified against the Airport Authority's proposal, including Vic Grundman of the private airport. Grundman said the new airport would be too far from town (seven miles) and "doesn't justify the expenditure."

The scant opposition was a surprise, since opponents were able to muster enough votes last October to unseat then-Mayor A. O. Gigstad in a recall campaign centering around the airport issue.

A year before, after many years of city resistance to urgings for an airport, Gigstad had appointed the Airport Authority to begin planning for the new municipal field.

A petition drive by airport opponents placed Gigstad's recall on the ballot, where he lost to Ervin M. Rogers, 1,254-1,022.

Gigstad did not appear at the hearing Thursday night. Rogers was present but left without testifying.

The question of increased taxation, the main issue in the recall campaign, went unmentioned Thursday night.

Besides Grundman, the only opponent speaking out was hardware merchant George Bischoff. He said he wasn't opposed to a municipal airport, but thought it should be within three miles of the center of town.

Otoe County roads superintendent Sidney Smith, on the other hand, said "if you don't have a good airport, this would someday hinder the industrial growth of Nebraska City."

The Nebraska Natural Resources Commission Thursday approved a floodplain zone for Fairbury. The designation sets restrictions on development within the floodplain and makes landowners eligible for subsidized flood insurance.

The commission's action gives Fairbury one year to enact its own ordinances bringing it into compliance with the state's order.

Dayle Williamson, the commission's executive secretary, said Fairbury officials have been co-operating with the commission's efforts to designate a floodplain. The city should have its ordinances in force within the one-year deadline, he said.

The commission also decided not to set a priority for funding of three reclamation projects, the North Loup, the O'Neill and the Mid-State Projects. The multi-million-dollar projects have been authorized by Congress but have not yet been funded.

Williamson said the commission decided that the question of priorities for funding should be left flexible, at least for the time being, following discussions with the Nebraska congressional delegation.

The commission also scheduled a special meeting for April 16 to draw up sub-districts for the election of Natural Resource District directors in November. The action was originally scheduled for Thursday, but weather conditions prevented commission members from meeting Wednesday to prepare the sub-districts.

Williamson said he hopes to get nominating petitions in circulation in May.

He noted that the directors are not required by the law to stand for election in the primary. Consequently, he said candidates for the boards of directors of the 24 NRDs must secure the names of 25 voters to be placed on the November ballot.

The NRDs, which are taxing bodies set up by the Legislature to assist in watershed projects, vary in the number of directors on each board from nine to 21.

NSEA Executive Secretary John Lynch Resigns Position

John E. Lynch

John Lynch, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, (NSEA), has announced he will not seek reappointment to that post. His fifth three-year term expires June 30.

Prior to the announcement, a motion was made by the NSEA board of directors to extend his contract for a two-year period to age 65.

Physical problems were cited as Lynch's reason for stepping down. Possible surgery, he said, could keep him from the office for an extended period of time.

"In view of these physical problems, I consider it more fair to the association and myself not to continue as executive secretary, and that new leadership be selected," he said.

Lynch has been linked with improving teacher retirement benefits; far-reaching professional negotiations and continuing contract legislation.

The suit filed by Edward Mason against Darrell D. Hirsch alleges that Hirsch drove through a red stoplight and collided with Mason's car.

Suit Filed In Accident

A suit seeking $500,000 in damages in connection with a Sept. 15, 1973 auto accident in Lincoln has been filed in Lancaster District Court.

The suit filed by Edward Mason against Darrell D. Hirsch alleges that Hirsch drove through a red stoplight and collided with Mason's car.

The suit alleges the accident resulted in Mason's permanent disfigurement and loss of earning capacity.

Wilcox Man Found Dead

Holdrege (AP) — The body of John G. Poague, 75, was found on a Phelps County road Thursday morning.

Authorities said he apparently died of exposure or a heart attack during a severe snow storm Wednesday evening.

Poague, of Route 2, Wilcox, had been trying to free his car from a ditch about 5 1/2 miles south of here.

better service to affiliated locals; and furthering the defense of teacher rights.

Lynch, a native of Iowa, came to Nebraska in 1945 as director of the prep school at Chadron State College. In addition to teaching, he also served as director of placement and special services.

In 1949, Lynch became the NSEA's first public relations staff member. He became head of its field service in 1950; was named assistant executive secretary in 1954; and took over the executive secretary position in 1959.

Tote Firm May Leave Beatrice If Rates Hiked

Beatrice (AP) — The president of Tote Systems, a division of the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co., told the Beatrice Board of Public Works (BPW) he would pull the firm's plant out of Beatrice if the board enacted a proposed 17% increase in electrical rates.

James Brashears, president of the plant which employs about 300 persons, challenged the accuracy of the electric rate study on which the board had based a rate increase recommendation.

Cooper Nuclear Station Production Faces Delay

Production of electricity at the Cooper nuclear station near Brownville has been delayed at least two months, according to Bob Buntain, power supply director for the Nebraska Public Power District.

Buntain said the delay was

He is the fifth NSEA executive secretary. His 15 years in the post is topped only by the late Dr. Archer Burnham, who served 16. Both had a 25-year NSEA career.

Lynch's educational career includes degrees from the University of Northern Iowa and the University of Iowa; three years as a classroom teacher; and nine years as a high school principal.

The board of directors is expected to launch a search for a successor at its next meeting in May.

The proposed rate hike would allow BPW to issue revenue bonds on $800,000 worth of improvements in the electrical system. Brashears contended BPW had enough reserve funds to cover the improvement costs without the rate hike.

The board delayed further action on the increase and decided to call in a fiscal agent to appraise BPW's financial status and issue a recommendation on the size of the rate hike.

caused by numerous non-nuclear problems.

"If everything had fallen into place we could have lucked out and made the April 1 date," he said. "But now we feel June 1 is a pretty conservative date."

Imperial Youth Cited As FFA Star Farmer

Michael C. Moreland, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moreland of Imperial, was named the 1974 Future Farmers of America Star Farmer of Nebraska during a special awards ceremony here Thursday evening.

Moreland has fed from 79 to 128 head of feeder cattle each year since he has been in vocational agriculture classes at Chase County High School at Imperial.

He also started with 95 acres of corn, increasing it to 132 acres. He also has grown 60 acres of millet, 26 acres of wheat and last fall purchased 10 head of breeding cows.

He has leased 160 acres equipped with an irrigation well. Moreland owns the irrigation system on the farm and a number of farm machines. He plans to enter a partnership this year with his father.

Woman, 72, Dies; Cause Investigated

Omaha (AP) — An elderly woman who was beaten in her Omaha home Jan. 6 died Wednesday in a nursing home. Deputy County Atty. Ed Warrin said he is awaiting a medical report as to whether Mrs. Verna Mae Burkett, 72, died of injuries from the beating. Warrin said if the medical report confirms the beating caused the death, he will file murder charges against two men arrested in connection with the incident.

He said Mark Hill, 18, and his brother, Kenneth E. Hill, 20, have been charged with robbery. Mrs. Burkett was hospitalized with broken facial bones, numerous cuts and both eyes swollen shut. She was unable to give details to police.

Richie Looks For New Family

By NANCY HICKS

Star Women's Editor
Richard Stark is a healthy, active 7½-year old boy, who loves to play and is a fanatic about picking up his toys and keeping his room clean.

He is an attractive youngster, tall for his age, with brown hair and brown eyes and "thick, long black eyelashes," according to his foster mother.

Richie gets along well with his foster parents. But they will be moving at the end of May and he will need a new family.

A student at Kahoa Elementary School, Richie is in the developmental learning program and also in B unit (second grade). He is showing satisfactory progress in both math and reading, his foster mother said.

Richard does have a speech problem and becomes frustrated when he knows what he wants to say but can't get it across. He is involved in speech therapy and is "doing quite well," according to his foster mother.

After living with Richie and observing him, the foster mother is "reluctant to call him retarded." He does have a learning problem, she said, and needs the special programs that Lincoln schools offer.

Richard is described as being helpful and assumes responsibilities around the house. He can help wash and dry dishes and helps in the yard.

He also takes pride in his work at home and at school and is a flexible youngster who adapts well to changes.

The Region 5 Foster and Adoptive Home Finding Unit is looking for a family for him in the Lincoln area, or another area where the school system offers special help for children with learning disabilities. They feel that a family with children slightly older than Richie, and who are thus aware of the stages that children this age go through, would best meet Richard's needs.

Richie says he wants a family with brothers and sisters and animals. "He loves and is good with all animals," added his foster mother. "He is gentle and concerned for them."

Persons interested in fostering Richard may contact the Foster and Adoptive Home Finding Unit, Region 5, Social Service Office, 525 So. 13th St. (471-2125).

10 Families Call

Eleven-year-old Ray, a boy with a "winning smile," should soon be placed in a foster home after a story about him in the Star brought 10 calls from readers, according to Jacalyn Ayoub, caseworker.

Social workers are currently working with several families who inquired about Ray and hope that placement in a home will soon be arranged.

Workshops On Gymnastics, Track Offered

A woman who was the first woman flag-bearer for a U.S. Olympic team and a woman who has coached the nationally ranked University of Massachusetts gymnastics team will conduct workshops at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln this summer.

Mrs. Olga Connolly, flag-bearer for the U.S. at the Munich Olympics in 1972, will conduct a workshop in Track and Field for Women July 1-3 and July 8-13. Mrs. Connolly also has the distinction of representing two different nations in Olympic competition. In 1956, she was a member of the Czechoslovakian team and she represented the U.S. in the Olympics in 1960 and 1972.

Kitty Kjeldsen, a well-known authority on gymnastics for women, has written a book and numerous articles on the subject. Her workshop in Gymnastics for Girls and Women will be offered June 17-28.

The other workshops for both men and women will be offered through the UNL Physical Education Department this summer.

Cheryl Bridges, former world record holder of the Marathon for Women, will teach the Theory of Aerobic Exercise with James M. Crabbe of the NU Physical Education Department from June 24-July 12.

A workshop in Outdoor Education will hold classes at NU and provide a two-day field experience at Camp Harriet Harding from June 10-28. The major focus of the workshop will be to provide participants with some concepts of outdoor education and how it can be used in the elementary and secondary schools.

Further information about the summer workshops can be obtained from the NU Physical Education Department or the NU Summer Sessions Office.

Advice On Husbands Stands

DEAR ABBY: Your outdated advice to the woman whose husband wanted her to have sex with other men really irked me. I'd have advised her to ask her husband why he wanted to share her. If it was because he didn't love her and wanted to get rid of her, then I fully agree, she shouldn't put up with it. But, did you ever stop to think that maybe the husband enjoyed her so much in bed that he wanted to show others what a great wife he has? Or it's possible that his sexual enjoyment may really be heightened if she has sex with other men?

Please don't call this perverted, or say that this man needs a psychiatrist. He doesn't need one. Read the sex manuals. This is an accepted sex practice and is widely accepted nowadays.

SEE THE LIGHT

DEAR SEE: I'm sorry I cannot agree with you. No man in our culture who truly loves his wife wants her to have sex with other men. If his own sexual enjoyment is heightened by such a need, it suggests either that he may have unconscious homosexual feelings or that he consciously or unconsciously has a need to degrade his wife.

DEAR ABBY: What happens to a man when he becomes 59 years of age and wants to be young again? My husband dislikes being addressed as "Grandpa." is now sporting sideburns and a mustache (which he dyes), asked for a bicycle for Christmas, and is shamelessly carrying on a flirtation with a 38-year-old woman.

1 Out of 10 Women Over 65 Is Working

Nearly one out of every 10 women over 65 is working, compared with nearly one of every four men, according to Department of Labor statistics.

The life styles of older working women tend to differ from those of men. A considerable proportion of the women over 65 are widowed and live alone, while the men are more frequently married and living with their wives.

'If anything is more scary than being a parent of a teenager, it is being a teenager.'

By LINDA OLIG
Star Staff Writer

They came seeking help in dealing with their teenagers. They were looking for easy solutions to raising teenagers; they wanted to know that others have the same, universal problems.

They were the dozen parents of teenagers attending the "Chaos" section of a workshop Thursday dealing with "The Power of Positive Worrying."

"In some ways, we expect too much of ourselves as parents," Gerald Aspengren, director of the Child Guidance Center, told the parents.

"What more can you do than give them (teenagers) the kind of guidance... to make the right decisions?" he asked.

Those decisions often lie in selecting a mate, career, lifestyle, of dealing with the "new morality," he said.

Reassuring the troubled parents, Aspengren said, "If anything is more scary than being a parent of a teenager, it is being a teenager."

In the give and take of the discussion group sponsored by the Lancaster County Mental Health Association, the social worker admitted teenagers see the world from a different vantage point than do their parents. "We expect our kids to understand our experiences. They don't have love, respect for money. They don't worry about getting degrees, diplomas. They are not coming from the same experiences we are."

He blamed parents' problems with teenagers on "the inability to understand each others."

The problems generally take the form of battles over the teenagers' unkempt rooms, choice of friends, way of dress and attitudes toward schools.

"They're with us such a short time, I wonder if it's worth it," to let the minor issues cloud the major problems, said the workshop moderator, a parent himself.

Teenagers begin to assert their decision-making powers by the time they reach 15 or 16 "and there's not a damned thing you can do... just hope you gave them enough to go on."

"But is it extremely painful to watch your kids make mistakes... Teenage time is a very hurtful time. They need someone in their corner when they are hurt," he added.

"What are acceptable guidelines for teenagers of today?" asked one of the discussion participants.

Aspengren responded: "People, in general, need limits... they need to know where they are... how much they can push."

"Do we always have to have a reason for saying 'no' to their requests?" asked a discussion participant.

"Teenagers want to be treated fairly, consistently," was the response.

"Some teens use parents and rules to get out of an uncomfortable situation," he added.

Offering additional insight to the parental problems, Aspengren said parents must be comfortable in their role as parents. Anger causes feelings of inadequacy in the parental role, he said.

"The biggest problem we have is not believing in what we've done" to instruct the children in such areas as sex education, drugs and morals.

He said parents often get "hung up" on the respect "owed" them by their children while forgetting that they owe their children the same respect. "I'm not sure you can buy anybody's respect," Aspengren said.

And parents should recognize the individuality of each of their children, he said.

"They were all born into a different family. The first child was born into a childless family. The second was born into a family with an only child and stands the risk of becoming the middle child. They respond differently to you and you respond differently to each child."

The social worker said that a major problem in dealing with teenagers today is parental perception of the new morality.

Attempting to put teenagers' attitudes toward marriage into perspective, he said, "When the whole idea of marriage came into existence" life expectancies were much shorter.

Then, people lived to be 40 and were married 15 to 25 years. Today, they marry at 20 and live to be 80. They are married 70 years.

He said teenagers are facing a personal dilemma and are asking themselves, "Do I really want to say I want to live with that person for so long... will I still be satisfied?"

"Which is worse," he asked the discussion participants, "going into marriage because people expect them to" and eventually becoming bored with the relationship and engaging in "wife swapping, or experimenting before marriage?"

Parents Air Worries

Mothers Urged To Breast Feed

Washington (UPI) — The female breast is threatening to become a mere sex symbol and that would be a catastrophe, according to Dr. Adeqale Amololu, a nutritionist of the World Health Organization.

In an article to commemorate World Health Day April 7, Omololu warned that many babies were dying because they were fed substitutes for mother's milk. He urged a widespread return to breast feeding.

"If no concerted action is taken, the time will soon come when the female breast will lose its function of feeding the young and become only a sex symbol," Omololu said.

"To avert this catastrophe, governments all over the world, but especially in developing countries, must ensure that the people are given every opportunity to know the facts."

The facts, he said, were that "breast milk is food for infants, cow's milk is food for calves. If we use cow's milk to feed human infants, we are using a substitute."

Sherbet Used In Rainbow Dessert

If there isn't a rainbow to be seen after a Spring shower, why not make one? Place a pint of lime, orange, lemon or raspberry sherbet in a mixing bowl and soften it. Gradually add one quart of milk, mixing with a rotary beater or spoon until combined. Add ¼ teaspoon of vanilla and serve in six chilled glasses.

Omololu, professor of nutrition at the University of Ibadan in Nigeria, said it was paradoxical that in developed countries some well-educated women were launching campaigns in favor of breast feeding while mothers in underdeveloped nations were still in the process of switching to substitutes in an effort to be "sophisticated."

Lacking clean water and refrigeration with which to prepare and store their substitutes for human milk, the women of underdeveloped countries have bottle-fed babies suffering from frequent attacks of vomiting, diarrhea and dehydration, Omololu said.

"The medical profession has confirmed that breast milk, apart from being fully digested and absorbed by the baby, transfers to him some of the immune bodies of the mother and makes him less liable to infection," Omololu said. "Breast-fed children get fewer attacks of diarrhea, vomiting and stomach upsets than bottle-fed children."

Darwin Impersonator Got Idea In Shower

By H. J. ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

It seems some students at the University of California at Berkeley spent some of their time in the 1960s demanding an overhaul of their education.

Zoology Professor Richard M. Eakin wondered what he could do to his science classes to make them more appealing.

"The idea came to me one day in the shower... with the spray," he said.

Eakin became Charles Darwin. And he does it regularly now every semester for his introduction to biology class at Berkeley.

Eakin gave his hour-long impersonation of the famous father of evolution at the initiation banquet of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honoraries.

Elaborate Programs
Eakin has worked up elaborate programs in which he becomes Darwin, or Louis Pasteur, Gregor Mendel, William Harvey, William Beaumont or Hans Spemann.

All are scientists prominent in one facet of biology. Eakin impersonates each of them in the course of a semester to introduce the six parts of the class, in which each of them plays a part.

"It gives a dynamic introduction to each section," he said in an interview before the program. "I find attendance in my classes is much improved. And students realize that these were real people."

Aisles Filled
His performance at UNL is indicative. Students filled the aisles and back of the room when they were seated after the banquet.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began. "I have been instructed that if I speak into this tube (the microphone) my voice will appear as if coming from Heaven."

"Well, I don't like new-fangled devices. And I'm no longer sure about Heaven."

Through a straight, but thick, gray beard he apologized for not having brought all of his books.

"Missing, for example, is my two-book volume on the barnacle," he said.

"Darwin" proceeded to tell the students of his decision not to become a doctor, but rather a country minister, and the all-important journey around the world on the ship Beagle in which the idea of natural selection began forming in his mind.

Shared Stories
Interspersed with heavy hints for students to remember certain parts of the speech ("Now for your notebooks...") he shared stories of Darwin's efforts to save his beetle collection by holding one member in his mouth, and his chagrin late in life at having become dedicated to science, he said, "at the expense of the emotional part of my nature."

Eakin has been doing his impersonations for his students for four years now, he said.

"I'm a rank amateur at acting," he said, but his six special lectures have drawn up to 500 visitors.

"My students have to come early to get seats," he said.

Thoroughly Researched

Each act has been thoroughly researched. He has had special flasks, peculiar to the time of the scientist, blown by glass blowers, he said, to use as props.

With Darwin, for example, he read everything the scientist wrote, relying heavily on his autobiography, he said.

He does not regularly perform outside his classes, he said. He came to Lincoln as a special favor to a former student of his, Tom Thorson, who is president of Sigma Xi.

But he has so many requests for the impersonations he is now filming them, so that anybody can rent them, he said.

Although he said he plans to add no more scientists to his repertoire, he jokes about the absence of women from his list.

"I really ought to do Marie Curie some day," he said.

Elm Creek Bank Loses Round In Fight Against Insolvency

By The Associated Press

The Elm Creek State Bank, which has been resisting action of the State Banking Department to declare it insolvent, lost a round in the State Supreme Court Thursday.

The high court upheld the Buffalo County District Court in approving the State Banking Department's motion to deny the bank any relief from the declaration of insolvency filed by the state banking director.

The Banking Department took possession of the bank April 20, 1973, and subsequently filed a declaration of insolvency in the Buffalo County District Court. When time came for a hearing on the declaration of insolvency, the bank asked a continuance and permission to take some depositions. The continuance was denied and when the bank refused to proceed, the court denied the bank's motion for relief.

The Supreme Court said the case turns upon the issue of who had the burden of proving the solvency or insolvency of the bank. The court said the burden, under the circumstances, was on the bank, and the burden had not been shouldered.

In other opinions Thursday, the Supreme Court:

—Reversed the Douglas County District Court and dismissed the suit which Marie P. Leary had brought against the Martin K. Eby Construction Co. as the result of a fall. The lower court had found in favor of the plaintiff.

—Affirmed the Holt County District Court in entering a judgment for the State Securities Co. against James and Blanche Cottle in a lien foreclosure action.

—Upheld the Boone County District Court in dismissing the appeal of Henry J. Buehner from a driver's license revocation order issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles under the point system. —Rejected the contention of Joe Louis Moore that the sentences imposed on him by the Lancaster County District Court for escape from the Penal Complex were excessive.

—Upheld the Colfax County District Court in ruling in favor of Ernest and Lucille Coufal in a suit brought against them by real estate broker John Wisniewski to recover a broker's commission under terms of a listing contract on a farm owned by the Coufals.

—Affirmed the Lancaster County District Court in altering the terms of a divorce decree by transferring the custody of minor children from Gary W. Erks to Donna M. Erks.

—Reversed the Cherry County District Court and sent back for trial on its merits a suit brought by Edgar Nine against Inez and Le Roy Lutz to set aside a deed from Inez and her husband, Eustach, to Le Roy as a conveyance in fraud of creditors. The lower court had sustained Nine's motion for a summary judgment.

—Upheld the Douglas County District Court in dismissing an action brought by Earl Schmitt, a totally disabled former city fireman, seeking disability benefits from the city of Omaha.

—Agreed with the division of property directed by the Scotts Bluff County district court in a divorce action involving Reuben Reig and Clara Reig.

Drug Overdose Kills Nephew Of Eisenhower

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lloyd Edgar Eisenhower, 49, nephew of the late president, was found dead Wednesday of an apparent drug overdose, sheriff's deputies said.

Investigators said Eisenhower had been taking medication and it was not known whether the overdose was intentional or accidental. Deputies said he apparently died of a barbiturate overdose.

Eisenhower's body was found in his West Hollywood apartment by his wife, Edith.

Return Of Cards Urged By VA

Veterans studying under the GI bill at colleges and universities in Nebraska are urged by the Veterans Administration to return their certification cards promptly.

Most are to be mailed this month, according to Don V.

Campbell, director of the VA Regional Office in Lincoln. The certification of attendance cards must be returned, Campbell said, before the veterans may be issued checks for their final month of school, or be automatically enrolled in summer or fall session courses.

Source Of Bonds Still A 'Mystery'

By United Press International
The U.S. Attorney for Nebraska said Thursday that where a Gibbon banker obtained $36,000 in stolen bonds was still a "mystery."

William Schaphorst said that throughout his trial, Ronald Bycroft, 41, had contended he purchased the bonds from brokers in Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn.

Bycroft was convicted of illegal transportation of stolen bonds by a U.S. District Court jury in Omaha last January and sentenced Wednesday to five years probation.

Bycroft also was ordered to pay the costs of the trial, which Schaphorst said Thursday amounted to $2,347 in witness fees. A hearing will be held April 12 in Omaha at which time the government will present proof of the costs.

Bycroft was chairman of the board of the Elm Creek State Bank when it was declared insolvent by the state last April.

Schaphorst said the stolen bond charge "had nothing to do with the bank's insolvency."

Schaphorst said the bonds were ordered by the Gibbon Exchange Bank, which Bycroft owned at the time. When the bonds arrived at the Omaha National Bank from a bank in Arkansas, the Gibbon bank, which Bycroft had sold in the meantime, said it didn't want the bonds.

Schaphorst said Omaha National put the bonds back in the mail to Arkansas and that was the last time they were seen.

"Bycroft had no explanation as to what happened to those bonds," Schaphorst said, "but he said he got his bonds by purchasing them from the brokers in Little Rock and Memphis."

However, Schaphorst said the bank draft which Bycroft said he had used to pay for part of the bonds had a serial number on it that "couldn't have been issued until after he had sold the bonds to a brokerage firm in Denver."

Schaphorst said the brokers who Bycroft said he purchased the bonds from "denied any such transaction."

"We demonstrated that Bycroft definitely had them," Schaphorst said. "But where he got them remains a mystery."

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. said Thursday that so far the FDIC has paid out $2,535,450.40 to 1,244 depositors of the Elm Creek Bank.

Wayne Ness of the corporation's liquidation division in Washington, said the FDIC began with 1,291 depositors and now has 47 unpaid with claims totaling $31,000.

Ness said when the FDIC is through, it will claim the assets of the bank in proportion to what it has paid out. He said the book value of the bank's assets at the date of closing, May 5, 1973, was $3,186,074.63.

"All creditors share on a pro-rata basis in the recovery," Ness said. "We are unable to forecast at this time what the ultimate recovery will be."

Meanwhile, the defunct bank, through the FDIC, has filed an order of attachment in Buffalo County District Court in Kearney. The order covers properties owned by Bycroft in Buffalo and Gosper counties and the bank is seeking $83,000 in damages.

The suit alleges fraud against Bycroft and Bill Heinzman of Kearney, who is included as a codefendant because the petition alleges that last January, Bycroft turned over properties to Heinzman as a trustee

Undercover Policewoman Wins Benefits

Harrisburg, Pa., (UPI) — After a 15-year legal battle, Philadelphia policewoman Ruby L. Mapp, who helped crack a drug ring by posing as a prostitute and then was fired, has won workman's compensation benefits back to 1956.

Pennsylvania Commonwealth Court ruled she suffered "unusual exertion, stress and strain," during five months of undercover work.

She collapsed and was hospitalized 10 days after evidence she gathered in 1955 helped lead to the arrest of 200 suspects. She returned to her job in 1957 but was fired a year later because of a "psycho-neurotic reaction" from her undercover experiences, the court said.

Daley: No Regrets

CHICAGO (AP) — From passing time's lofty vantage point, Mayor Richard Daley says he has no regrets that the tumultuous Democratic National Convention was held here in 1968.

"I think" said the mayor, who had resisted efforts to move the violence-and-strike-plagued convention to Miami, "that I'd do the same damned thing over again."

Blindness Prevention Unit Elects

The Nebraska Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., Thursday night elected new board of directors officers and members at its annual meeting.

Board officers are Mrs. Stuart Howter, president; Mrs. Charles Oldfather and James Pollard, vice presidents; Mrs. Del Rasmussen, secretary; and James Sargent, treasurer.

New board members elected to one-year terms are Dr. Duane Polzin, and Mrs. Ted Schafer; to two-year terms, Dr. Stanley M. Truhlsen, Don Hart and Robert Dean; and to three-year terms, Dr. Larry Wood, Dr. John Butler, Dr. Gerald Diever, Mrs. Floyd Owens, Mrs. Robert Cather, Miss Marge Mengshow, Mrs. John Green, Lloyd Oliver, Miss Marjorie Moore and Mrs. Betty Rundlett.

Board members re-elected to three-year terms are Mrs. Max A. Denney, Mrs. J. L. Waterbury, Mrs. Mike Yanney, Mrs. Howard A. Dinsdale and James Pollard.

Doctors Testify; Personnel Unit Reinstates Man

A Lincoln man who was dismissed in February from his job with the City Parks Dept. allegedly for medical reasons was reinstated in his former position Thursday by a 4-0 vote of the City Personnel Board.

W.O. Borden, a city equipment operator, was officially dismissed from his job because he needed lighter work, according to Don Elrod, international representative for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

Elrod, who represented Borden before the board, claimed that Borden was dismissed for involvement in union activities of AFSCME Local 278 of Lincoln.

Elrod said two physicians testified before the board that Borden physically was able to continue in his former capacity.

More Churches Join Fellowship

More churches are joining the Lincoln Fellowship of Churches, bringing the total church membership to more than 40, fellowship board members were told in a report Thursday. The report was part of the board's bimonthly meeting.

Other reports announced the start of a new early morning devotional radio program, "It Happened to Me," and the possibility of involvement of churches in a project for the 1976 U.S. Bicentennial.

Savings Stolen

A metal box containing $896 in cash and savings bonds was stolen from the Eugene Turek residence at 6217 Logan between Tuesday and Thursday, according to police reports.

Wesleyan Drive Tops 50% Mark

More than one-half of a minimum needs goal of $3,510,000 has been subscribed to Nebraska Wesleyan University's Phase II of its Decade for Fulfillment, according to Charles E. Sconyers, vice president for development.

The campaign figure stands at $1,823,227.

"The bulk of this support has come from the Advance Gifts solicitation in the Retail, Industrial and Financial Divisions, from members of our boards, from foundations and The United Methodist Church," Sconyers said.

The remaining $1,686,773 will have to come from three major sources, alumni, special gifts from friends, and from additional foundation support, he said.

Three divisions in the advance gifts solicitation, retail, industrial and financial, have already accounted for $560,000 in gifts and pledges, Sconyers reported.

"These three divisions are well ahead of the pace set five years ago in the first phase of our Decade program."

Support from the faculty, staff and students at Nebraska Wesleyan has been good, too, he said, with the total at last report at the $53,000 level.

UNL Professor Is Lecturer At Marquette

Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., recently appointed NU English professor and Willa Cather authority Bernice Sliote to Marquette Women's Chair of Humanistic Study, a week-long visiting professorship awarded annually by the university's College of Liberal Arts.

During her stay on the Marquette campus March 25-29, Miss Sliote gave a public lecture, "Willa Cather's America," addressed a graduate student colloquium and two seminar groups and met informally with students and faculty. Her visit coincided with a Cather Centennial observance by the Association of Marquette University Women.

Directory Lists Special Skills

"The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Human Resource Inventory," a listing of members of the NU community with specialized skills that can be employed outside the university, has just been published by the NU Political Science Department and Extension Division.

Major categories included in the resource directory include public finance, government, public relations and management, and general problems such as physical, environmental, marketing and accounting.

Funds for the publication were provided through a Title I federal grant. Copies of the directory will be available through the Office of Informal Education of the NU Extension Division.

AARON TIES RUTH'S RECORD

Atlanta Slugger Belts 714th Career Homer

... CINNCINNATI WINS, 7-6

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ageless Hank Aaron shed the ghost of Babe Ruth Thursday.

"It's a load off my back," said the Atlanta Braves' slugger after tying baseball's most revered record by slamming his 714th home run in his first at-bat of 1974.

The victim was Jack Billingham, who explained, "You don't make mistakes to Henry Aaron."

But the Cincinnati Reds, the defending National League West champions, recoiled after the epic shot and rallied to a 7-6 victory in 11 innings. Pete Rose, who doubled home the tying run with two out in the ninth inning, doubled again with two out in the 11th and scored the winning run all the way from second base on Buzz Capra's wild pitch.

Aaron indicated he'll play in Saturday's game against lefty Don Gullett, who has given up more homers—seven—to the Atlanta star than any other Cincinnati pitcher.

Concealing the pressure of his long chase of Ruth's record, Aaron said he'll show more emotion when he claims the record-breaking 715th homer.

"I'll probably run around the bases backward," said the reserved superstar. Catcher Johnny Bench said the pitch Aaron hit was a fast ball, outside. "It was cranks-ville," said Bench.

Rose, who watched the historic shot sail over his head in left field, said: "I knew it was gone. It made me mad. I didn't mind it being a homer, but you're always disappointed when it happens with men on base. But Henry deserves it."

Dave Concepcion homered for Cincinnati's other run in the fifth inning.

The game was less than five minutes old when the 40-year-old Aaron, a native of Mobile, Ala., crashed his historic homer before a sun-splashed crowd of 52,154, largest opening day turnout in the 106-year history of baseball's oldest team.

Aaron's 380-foot blast pulled him abreast of a record once considered unattainable. The record-tying feat came 39 years after Ruth retired from the game he popularized. Aaron was 1-year-old when Ruth hit his final homer.

An 11th-hour addition to the line-up, Aaron's historic homer came after considerable dispute and drama. The question of his availability spawned a feud with Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Braves' brass. The team announced earlier this spring that Aaron would be withheld until Atlanta's home-opening series Monday.

The homer was his 96th off his favorite victims and his first season-opening round-tripper and came at 2:40 p.m., EDT.

A rousing ovation greeted Aaron in his initial at-bat. Billingham, a 19-game winner last year, had started shakily, walking Ralph Garr and yielding a single to Mike Lum.

The 31-year-old right-hander ran the count to 3-1. Aaron sent the next pitch over the left-field fence near the 375-foot mark. He jogged around the bases and was mobbed by his teammates as he crossed the plate.

The ball was retrieved in a runaway by a Cincinnati policeman, Clarence Williams, and presented to Aaron in a six-minute ceremony near home plate.

Aaron certified the momentous feat by going to the edge of the stands to kiss his wife, Billye, his bride of five months. Sitting with her were Aaron's father and brother.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford saluted the homer, calling the feat "a great day for you and a great day for baseball." Ford then wished Aaron "good luck for No. 715 and a good many more."

Aaron later grounded out to third base in the third inning and walked in the fifth, later scoring on an error. It was his 2,062nd career run scored, tying him for third place on that alltime list with Willie Mays.

Aaron then lined out to center field in the seventh inning and was removed from the game in the bottom of the seventh with the Braves leading 6-2.

The home run came in his 2,965th major league game. Ruth played 2,503 games in 22 years. Aaron has had 2,890 more times at bat than Ruth.

The Atlanta slugger has averaged 35.5 homers a year for 20 seasons. Ruth finished with a 32.4 average.

THE TYING HOMER... Members of the Atlanta Braves congratulate Henry Aaron on his 714th career homer.

NFL Meeting Produces Disagreements

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League Players Association and the NFL Management Council collided head-on Thursday over the players' demands for more freedom and more money, resulting in an apparent breakdown of negotiations.

Husker Traver In 5th Place

University Park, Pa. (UPI) — Doug Fitzjarrell of defending national champion Iowa State took the free exercise lead Thursday in opening competition in the 32nd Annual NCAA Gymnastics Championships with 9.30 of a possible 10 points.

Ted Marcy of Stanford was the pommel horse leader with 9.55 points and five athletes were tied in the rings with 9.2 points each after the compulsory exercises.

Optional exercises will be performed Friday with final team and individual competition Saturday.

Tied for the lead in the rings were Rick Curtis of Arizona State, Keith Keaver of Iowa State, Mark Lundy of California, Jerry Codell of Arizona and Pete Bothof of Northern Illinois.

Hal Traver of the University of Nebraska is in fifth place in the pommel horse event with marks of 9.05.

The Management Council—the owners' bargaining unit—flatly rejected two fundamental segments covering most of the players' 57 contract demands—the so-called freedom issues and what the owners termed "unprecedented collective demands" totaling more than $100 million. It said the players were calling for anarchy and injecting "double jeopardy" by attempting to have collective bargaining cover issues which will also be open to individual player-club contract talks.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA, said the NFLMC's reaction to their demands "is no response at all. We'd like to receive a written response." And he said that it appeared talks would not continue until the Management Council responds.

Under the original agreement, which calls for weekly meetings, alternating between New York, the Management Council headquarters, and Washington, the Players Association offices, it's up to the players to call the next one.

Demands by the NFLPA regarding "freedom issues" involve, in part, the removal of Commissioner Pete Rozelle from all non-injury grievance arbitration; the elimination of the option clause, waiver system, reserve lists, fines; elimination of Rozelle's power to discipline a player and the end to the Rozelle Rule, whereby a team which signed a player who has played out his option must adequately compensate his former team.

The NFLMC, in a prepared statement, said it sees in these demands "a demolition of the structure which has taken the National Football League more than 50 years to build, with no organization proposed to take its place."

And Theodore Kheel, the NFLMC counsel, said they were "anarchy issues, not freedom issues. What the players are trying to do is to eliminate all restraints."

"As soon as the players are ready to offer proposals for sensible changes in the existing system," the owners' statement said, "we will be ready to seek ways of working out reasonable compromises... But we draw the line at a system with no rules..."

In players' money demands, the phrase "not less than" is what has the owners' upset. The players want minimum pay—all of which would be open to individual negotiation—for relocation and dislocation in the event of a trade (which players would like to have the right to cancel), severance, travel, preseason, regular season and postseason games, per diem, etc.

Specifically, the players' demands include:

—minimum pay of up to $7,000 for exhibition games; —a $20,000 minimum salary for rookies and $25,000 for veterans;

—$5,000 or a two-game check, whichever is greater, for players (win or lose) in divisional playoffs;

—$15,000 or three-game checks for players in conference championships;

—a minimum of $25,000 for each winning player and $20,000 for each losing player in the Super Bowl;

—$5,000 or a two-game check for appearing in the Pro Bowl, the league's all-star game.

King Increases Margin

Grand Island — Dave King solidified his first-place position Thursday in the jockey standings here at Fonner Park by riding three winners.

King prevailed aboard Rob Ke Bob ($9.00) in the first race, Harvest of Harmony ($7.60) in the fifth and Village Kid ($7.00) in the ninth. He also rode three horses who finished third.

Ray Correa, however, won the featured seventh race aboard Mr. and Mrs. N. Tidball's Kota Call, who ran the six furlongs in 1:13 4-5. The 5-year-old mare defeated four foes for a $2,200 purse.

Kota Call paid $6.80, $3.40 and $2.20 while Ken Kirby and Fritz Engel's Southside Boy placed for $3.00 and $2.20 and the Mo-B-Jo Stables' Wild Wink showed for $2.20.

Sports Notes

Head basketball coach Hank Anderson, 52, resigned at Montana State University to become athletic director at Northern Arizona University.

Anderson will be replaced at MSU by Rich Juarez, 34, who served as Anderson's assistant coach at Gonzaga and Montana State. MSU Athletic Director Tom Para: made the announcements concerning Anderson and Juarez at a news conference in Bozeman.

Bob Revelle, who played at the University of Nebraska with Johnny Rodgers, has signed with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. Rodgers, the 1973 Heisman Trophy winner, joined the team last year.

NBC-TV announced it would telecast nationally a maximum of eight National Hockey League Stanley Cup games, with the first set for April 9 when Atlanta visits Philadelphia. The Montreal at New York Rangers game on April 14, also will be telecast.

The World Football League Houston Texans have announced five signees for the upcoming season, and promised at least one more signing. They include former all-Big Eight safety Alvin Brown of Oklahoma State; quarterback Ken Pettiford, and defensive tackle Shawney Wynn, both of NCAA college division national champion Tennessee State and wide receiver Rubin Jones and tailback Jimmy Edwards, both of Northeast Louisiana State.

Ernie DiGregorio, who led the NBA in assists and helped spark the Buffalo Braves to their first playoff berth, won almost unanimously the rookie of the year award Thursday in the National Basketball Association.

Jimmy Connors is the runaway leader on the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association pro money list with earnings of $85,300, more than double those of the runner-up.

NU COACHES: TONY SHARPE

Warm Weather, Numbers Hurt NU Recruitment

Thirteenth of a Series
By KEN HAMBLETON
Star Sports Writer

Building a baseball team is the name of the game. You need a balance of hitting, pitching and fielding to produce a winner.

Recruiting is the way to build a college baseball team. But with limited recruiting in state high schools due to the lack of high school baseball teams in Nebraska, NU baseball coach Tony Sharpe has his work cut out for him when he tries to land top players.

"There are only 37 high school teams in the state and they play about 15-20 games a season. Those kids get in about 25 games of legion ball in the summer," said Sharpe.

"But down south, Oklahoma for instance, the kids get to play nine months out of the year, and they get in about 100 games because the weather is so much better than here," Sharpe continued. "And our problem is when we talk to a top player who has a choice between Nebraska and Arizona or Texas where would you think he would want to play?" asked Sharpe.

"Baseball is a skill game and any layoff only hurts a player," analyzed Sharpe.

"Last year we had 12 games in a row rained out and I know it really hurt us," he added.

To support Sharpe's feelings, the last northern team to win the NCAA championship was Minnesota in 1964.

Despite the Nebraska weather, Sharpe tries to get in as many games as possible, starting in the fall with pickup teams from the team hopefuls and playing three games a week. Then, in the spring, a trimmed squad begins spring practices in February.

"Playing is really the best way to sharpen the talents that the kids have," Sharpe said.

"But a kid has to keep motivating himself in this game. There are no safe spots on our team and a player has to be motivated enough to win the battle for position," said Sharpe.

"A coach can't make a team leader or a top competitor out of anybody. That comes from within the individual," he said.

Solving Cost Problems

One major collegiate conference is going to split divisions and another is going to consider a split schedule in basketball in attempts to cut transportation costs and increase spectator interest.

The Big Ten Conference has split competition in six non-revenue producing sports into east and west divisions and its athletic directors will meet Sunday to prepare a five-year schedule for those sports. These include wrestling, swimming, track, gymnastics and tennis. There'll be a playoff between divisional winners in baseball.

The Southwest Conference, which is meeting this week in Houston, will consider a split season in basketball designed to sustain interest at the gate. The plan calls for winners of each half to meet in a playoff.

Perhaps the most important matter the SWC will discuss is the role of women's athletics in the intercollegiate program. It's something every college and university is going to have to wrestle with and soon.

In fact, Nebraska athletic director Bob Devaney had a meeting scheduled yesterday to talk about it.

SWC president J. Neils Thompson of the University of Texas said his conference is going to discuss it because of a health, education and welfare directive which calls for equal coaching in women's athletics.

"It appears that a majority of the women's administrative people don't want scholarships," Thompson said in a recent interview with Texas Football Magazine. "However, the guidelines call for this. Equal support means equal coaching."

As far as the Big Eight is concerned on the split divisions, Devaney sees it only as a remote possibility since the conference is more compact as far as travel distances are concerned. The longest trips for Cornhusker teams are to Oklahoma and Colorado.

Another Major League?

The major league baseball season opened Thursday amid news that another professional league is being planned by some of the same people who already have successfully started pro leagues in basketball and hockey and who will launch another pro football league this summer.

Like the American Basketball Association, which uses a red, white and blue ball, the new baseball league plans to use an orange ball for night games.

Additional spice will be added by permitting five designated hitters and a designated runner, three balls for a walk, intentionally-walked hitters waved to first base without a pitch, and two runs for the runner who steals home after the sixth inning.

The sales pitch in acquiring talent will be a season of only between 73 and 84 games and giving traded players 15 per cent of the trade's value after they've been in the league three seasons.

The organizers says the shorter season will assure longer player life and the designated hitters will provide more offense.

Poll Shows Decline

All these plans are being made despite a continuing decline in the number of fans who call baseball their "favorite" sport. Likewise, most of the cities mentioned as possible franchise holders don't appear to be of major league size.

A special Harris Sports Survey taken during the last week in March showed a six-percentage point decline among fans as a "favorite" sport — with only 19 percent claiming it compared with 28 percent for football.

Baseball, however, is holding up in terms of the number who follow the sport with 62 percent answering to the question "which sports do you follow?" That's up from 57 percent in a similar poll in 1971.

The survey showed an increase in fan interest in most sports, including a healthy 13 percent jump in tennis followers. Boxing took the biggest drop from 31 percent in 1971 to 25 percent last week.

Weather Halts Huskers

Nebraska's football team will try to get in its second practice session of the spring this afternoon after calling off Thursday's drill because of the cold and high winds.

The Cornhuskers also were weathered in on Wednesday.

Coach Tom Osborne said the missed practice would be made up next Thursday, which means there'll be workouts next Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Saturday's scrimmage in Memorial Stadium still is planned. It will begin at 2 p.m.

Sharpe announced that freshman catcher Ron Milenberger will be in the starting lineup along with Dennis O'Doherty in the first game and Randy Benish in the second.

"I think that now we've gotten over most of our early injuries (Ted Jadowski, Jimmy Smith, Sam Sharpe, and Ken Bauder) and we will be ready for them," said Sharpe.

"This team (Oklahoma) is one of the best in the country but I think that we may be at an advantage due to OU's schedule," said Sharpe. Oklahoma faces USC in a doubleheader next Tuesday at Norman.

Oklahoma opened the Big Eight season with a three game sweep over Kansas including a 25-1 pounding of the Jayhawks. Nebraska, 0-3 in the conference, and 2-11 on the season dropped three games to Kansas State in its Big Eight opener last weekend. But Tuesday the Huskers snapped an 11-game losing streak with a twin bill sweep over Morningside.

OU coach Enos Sennore said he'll start left-hander Bob Shirley (5-4) and Stan Meek (3-1) in the twin bill.

The probable Husker starting lineup for Friday: Jim Smith (3b), Dick Anderson (lf), Randy Miller (rf), Ron Miltenberger (c), Bill Jadowski (2b), Sam Sharpe (1b), Doug Fowler (dh), and Dan Eldick (ss).

Gibson, Ryan Set To Hurl

By The Associated Press
With such pitching aces as Bob Gibson and strikeout king Nolan Ryan set for action, the major league baseball season picks up momentum Friday with a seven-game schedule.

In the National League, Pittsburgh sends Jerry Reuss against the Cardinals' Gibson at St. Louis, San Diego will use Steve Arlin against the Dodgers' Don Sutton at Los Angeles, and Claude Osteen goes for Houston against Tom Bradley in San Francisco.

Minnesota's Bert Blyleven will pitch at Kansas City against Paul Splittorff; Ryan works for visiting California against Chicago's Wilbur Wood; Luis Tiant goes for Boston against Jim Colborn in Milwaukee, and Detroit's Mickey Lolich faces Jim Palmer at Baltimore in the American League.

The season began Thursday when Atlanta played at Cincinnati in a day game and Oakland faced Texas at night.

Reuss, 16-13 last year for the Astros, inherited the starting job for Pittsburgh when Dock Ellis injured his hand and was placed on the disabled list. Gibson was 12-10 last year in a season shortened by his knee injury.

Arlin, 11-14 for the Padres a year ago, will be backed by a host of new faces in the San Diego lineup. The club acquired veterans Willie McCovey, Glenn Beckert, Bobby Tolan and Matly Alou over the winter.

Sutton was 18-10 for Los Angeles last season and must carry a heavy part of the load in the Dodgers' effort to catch defending champion Cincinnati in the NL West this season.

Osteen, who had a 16-11 record for the Dodgers in 1973, enjoyed an outstanding spring training after being traded to Houston for outfielder Jimmy Wynn. Bradley, 13-12 last year, works for the Giants in place of Ron Bryant, who's also on the disabled list.

The pairing of Blyleven and Splittorff matches a pair of 20-game winners at Kansas City. Blyleven was 20-17 for the Twins and Splittorff had a 20-11 log for the Royals.

Ryan, who set a record with 383 strikeouts and pitched two no-hitters last year, goes for California at Chicago with the White Sox countering with Wood, their knuckleball ace who was 24-20 last year.

Tiant and Colborn provides another match of 20-game winners at Milwaukee. Tiant was 20-13 and Colborn 20-12 last year.

Palmer, 22-9, for the Orioles last year, faces Detroit's Lolich, 16-15, at Baltimore.

Night games are scheduled at St. Louis, Los Angeles and Kansas City with the rest of schedule to be played in the afternoon.

Rockets Eye Girls Track Title

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

Although the competition may be suspect, some conclusions can be drawn from Lincoln Northeast's resounding 99-5 win over Papillion in a dual girls track meet this week.

First, coach Nancy Bishop's Rockets have their sights set high on dethroning 1973 city girls champion Lincoln Southeast.

Secondly, Northeast has uncovered some impressive underclassmen for crucial depth to make the city title bid.

One of those "finds" is sophomore Nancy Weston, who indicated recently that she thought she could high jump 4-6.

"So I started her on the Western roll and boom, the first meet, she jumps 5-0," offers Ms. Bishop. "She's gone 5-1 in practice. I'd like to find more prospects like that around school."

The Rockets' rely foremost on the versatile talents of junior Peggy Liddick, last spring's state Class A long jump champion.

"She also runs the 50, 100, hurdles and 440 relay and high jumps for us," points out Ms. Bishop. "We use her where she can help us the most."

Junior shot putter Debbie Raddatz, who placed third in the 1973 state meet, is also among 11 returning Northeast letter winners.

Others include seniors Cindy Arnold (weights), Janet Gelwick (440), Heidi Hadley (50, long jump), Karen Marshall (440, discus), Roxie Pohlman (220) and Pam Powers (50, 220).

Returning junior letter winners joining Liddick and Raddatz are Nancy Dickey (50, 100), Sandy Ems (880) and Cindy Landstrom (220, hurdles).

Southeast, however, appears to have ample firepower to challenge Northeast for city girls track honors.

Second-year Southeast coach Jerry Harkrader returns six letter winners, including standouts Doris Hitz, Barb Stanislaw and Lauri Reichenbach.

Miss Hitz, a senior, is a sprinter. Miss Stanislaw is as versatile as Northeast's Liddick, competing well in the hurdles, high jump and long jump. Quarter-miler Jane Harkrader is another returning senior letter winner.

Ashland Hires Dana's Simpson

Ashland — Bob Simpson, head football and wrestling coach and assistant track coach for the past seven years at Dana College, has been named head football coach at Ashland High School.

Simpson, a 1955 Peru State College graduate, coached at Wymore and Harlan, Iowa, before going to Dana in 1967. He also will teach physical education at Ashland.

Track Meet Delayed

Kearney — The Kearney State College track meet scheduled for Saturday has been postponed until Monday at 1 p.m.

A Kearney spokesman said inclement weather caused the delay.

TOP SPRINTERS RETURN . . . Lincoln High's Linda Dowd, left, and Southeast's Doris Hitz are two of the top girls track sprinters in the Capital City this season.

Miss Reichenbach, a junior, is defending city 440 champion and a standout half-miler. Sprinters Kerry Fischer and Sue Bokemper also lettered last year as sophomores.

Sophomore sprinters Sally Bokemper, Cathy Schmidt and Jan Stoehr and sophomore hurdler, quarter-miler Lori Bryd are among other promising Knight prospects.

Senior Kendra Schwab heads a list of seven returning letter winners for first-year East coach Myron Oehlerking, who succeeds Jan Fenemore.

Miss Schwab placed third in the state Class A high jump last spring and is working on the hurdles this season.

Senior quarter-miler Sarah Boslaugh and junior shot putter Georgette Caddy are other Spartan standouts.

East, NE Picked In City Relays

Lincoln East is the boys favorite and Lincoln Northeast the girls favorite Friday in the annual Lincoln City Relays track meet at Stuart Stadium at East High.

The Spartan boys team, under first-year head coach Bob Eyth, last week finished fourth in the 9-team Millard Relays.

They scored 37 points in the meet, but city rivals Northeast (35½), Southeast (30½) and Lincoln High (30) were close behind.

The city relays were canceled last year because of inclement weather, which also threatens Friday's competition.

Field events start at 12:30 p.m. with running events slated to begin at 1:45 p.m.

Senior middle distance runner Sue Resz, junior quarter-miler Cindy Bottcher and junior sprinters Kris Hermanson and Brenda Putnam also earned 1973 letters.

Miss Hermanson's progress, however, has been slowed by mononucleosis. Oehlerking also missed the services of what would have been two standout hurdlers, one of whom broke an ankle and another of whom broke an arm.

But he hopes to compensate for their losses with talented sophomores Barb Albert, Nancy Grant, Annette Loeher, Pat Mebus, Laurie Reisher, Sally Wilson, Marla Ziegelbein, Nancy Taylor and Barb Remigio and promising junior Yvonne Heiden.

Mueller, returns only five letter winners. But three of them scored in last spring's state meet.

They include senior Judy Johnson (second in discus), senior Linda Dowd (fifth in 50) and junior Pam Koonitz (fifth in shot put).

Juniors Cathy West (440) and Christy Olson (discus) are other Link letter winners. Sophomores Judy Brown (sprints), Darci Welchhoff (880), Sue Bruce (hurdles) and Peggy Nichols (440) are promising prospects.

Nine returning letter winners bolster the outlook at Pius X, but first-year coach Sandy Genrich points out that the Thunderbolts have lost duals to Beatrice, Seward and Columbus.

Sophomore Jane Smiley is Pius X's standout. She placed fourth in the long jump and fifth in the 50 at the gigantic Kearney State College Invitational girls meet two weeks ago.

Senior letter winners are Paula Landkamer (hurdles), Judy McCabe (high jump), Debbie Wiltshire (weights), Jean Shandera (weights), Jane Shandera (weights) and Peg Canrad (880).

Miss Smiley, who also high jumps, Therese Charko (sprints) and Debbie Barry (880) are sophomore letter winners.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE - Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
